Cold Wave Spreads Over South And Atlantic States

40 REPORTED VICTIMS OF SEVERE COLD

Temperatures on Eastern Seaboard Drop 50 Degrees Within Few Hours
SUFFERING IN SOUTH

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—(UP)—Extreme cold spread suffering and death over almost the entire United States today as the Arctic wave which has frozen the Midwest and Rocky Mountain states for several days swept over the south and the Atlantic seaboard. At least 40 deaths were attributed directly or indirectly to the cold.

Seldom has a cold wave spread over such a great proportion of the country. From the western Rocky Mountain region to the Atlantic and from Canada far into the southland, temperatures ranging from 43 below zero to a few degrees above were reported. Over the entire territory the already difficult task of caring for the destitute was made far worse. Damage to crops and livestock was heavy in some sections.

The snow which accompanied the cold wave when it first spread over the middlewest did not reach the east, but in Utah a new blizzard developed late yesterday. Many towns were reported marooned.

Record Drops
Unseasonable warmth along the eastern seaboard yesterday gave way to cold during the night, with temperature drops of 50 degrees in 12 hours in New York City and elsewhere. From a record high of 63 at 2 p. m. yesterday, the temperature plunged to 14 below, according to unofficial readings.

In the Midwest and the Rocky Mountain states, the cold remained far more severe than in the east. Snow had stopped over most of the western territory, except in the intermountain section, but temperatures in some sections dropped even lower last night than they had the night before. In the Chicago area, where 15 deaths had been reported, thermometers registered below zero. In Kansas City it was 6 below soon after midnight, and getting colder. Butte, Mont., reported 31 below; Denver 15 below; most of Wyoming

FAMOUS NIGHT CLUB BURNED TO GROUND

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9.—(UP)—Fire destroyed the Lido cafe, famous North Beach night club, today.

Forty persons living in the En-tella hotel, which extends above the cabaret, were saved by four policemen who ran through the halls, kicking down doors and herding the dazed and sleeping occupants through dense smoke to the street.

Two men fled down a fire escape, and only one person, Paul Jones of Sebastopol, was injured. Flames roared through the window of his room and ignited his bed.

There were no women in the hotel.

SIX FIREMEN KILLED IN OMAHA HOTEL BLAZE

700 PERSONS FACE DEATH BY DROWNING

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Feb. 9.—(UP)—The last link between the little island of Sandy Point, with 700 terror-stricken inhabitants, and the Newfoundland main shore was broken today when telegraph lines were swept away and the tenuous dyke connecting the storm battered island with solid land was inundated.

ST. JOHN'S, Newfoundland, Feb. 9.—(UP)—The entire island of Sandy Point off the west coast of Newfoundland, containing a settlement of about 700 people, was threatened with destruction by the sea today.

Tremendous waves lashed at the sandy foundations of the island, three miles long and less than a mile wide, when the breakwater collapsed in the center.

The inhabitants, panic stricken because the highest point in the island is only five feet above sea level, began a frantic exodus in boats. The island is a mile from the mainland.

News of the island's plight was flashed here at noon in the Newfoundland time report. The telegraph operator said the sea had cut out to within a few feet of his office.

At noon a report from Sandy Point said the island was threatened with inundation as the seas continued to batter down sections of the protecting breakwater.

The seas were running so high that driving small boats through them was regarded as too hazardous to attempt.

MAROOINED SOLONS TAKEN TO SAFETY
LOGAN, Utah, Feb. 9.—(UP)—Utah's junketing legislators today inspected Utah State Agricultural college after a harrowing experience of being marooned in the year's worst blizzard for five hours yesterday.

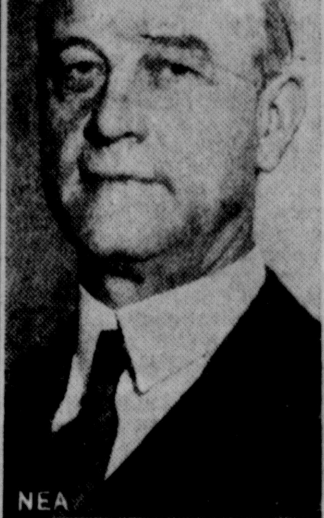

The party was rescued by university students, who organized a rescue expedition when informed the legislators, whose arrival they had been patiently awaiting, were stalled west of Wellsville.

Equipping themselves with sleds the students reached Wellsville where sleighs were obtained. Dragging the sleighs with difficulty they marched up the railroad right of way with a cargo of sandwiches and hot coffee.

Loading the 55 members of the party into the sleighs, the students started the arduous task of dragging them to Logan.

JAPAN FORCES READY TO MOVE AGAINST JEHO

Believed Campaign to Get Underway Within Next Few Days, Reported

TOKIO, Feb. 9.—(UP)—Japan's military forces in Manchuria will begin a drive against Chinese troops for the conquest of Jehol province soon the war office indicated in a statement today.

Although there were no definite indication of when the campaign would get under way, the native language press believed it would be only a few days.

The statement implied that Japanese action against the Chinese in Jehol could not be considered a warlike move, as Japan will be helping Manchoukuo "restore order" in Jehol, which Japan considers part of Manchuria and not of China.

It was indicated that the "police work" or cleaning up would be (Continued on Page 2)

GLASS TO DECLINE PLACE IN CABINET

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(UP)—Sen. Carter Glass of Virginia probably will decline to become secretary of treasury in the Roosevelt cabinet, it was said reliably here today.

Friends understood that one factor was the senator's health. He had a serious illness last summer and has been obliged to conserve his strength carefully this winter.

The development added a new element of uncertainty in the Roosevelt cabinet situation. Some believed Senator Cordell Hull, Dem., Tenn., who has been mentioned for secretary of state might be placed in the treasury post. He is regarded as certain to go into the cabinet in some capacity and his congressional experience has been with taxation and tariff rather than with foreign affairs.

THREATENS TO KIDNAP SECOND LINDBERGH SON

Two Arrested After Taking $17,000 Check From Stump

ROANOKE, Va., Feb. 9.—(UP)—Two young farmers from near Roanoke, Joe Bryant, 19, and Norman Harvey, 28, were jailed here today for investigation in connection with a letter they allegedly wrote to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh in December, threatening to kidnap his second son, John Morrow Lindbergh, if he did not pay them $17,000.

"We are investigating to see if we have enough to hold them on," Chief of Police J. L. Manning said. "The purported letter was written in December. These boys live near Roanoke and work on a farm."

The chief said both Bryant and Harvey refused to talk about the case. Col. Lindbergh turned the letters over to police and it was traced to Bryant and Harvey.

Threatening letters had been sent to Col. Lindbergh since last Dec. 1, police said. The letters, which at first demanded $50,000, were turned over to Col. H. Norman Schwartzkopf, of the New Jersey state police, by Col. Lindbergh.

Schwartzkopf referred the letters to the district attorney of New Jersey, who in turn sent the letters to Robert C. Johnson, chief of the police identification bureau here.

Working guardedly, Johnson registered at a Roanoke hotel as John D. Jones. He said he communicated with Bryant, alleged author of the letters to Colonel Lindbergh, and advised him he, "Jones," was a special agent of the flier sent here for an amicable settlement of the demands.

Letters were exchanged between the "special agent" and Bryant, police said, until it finally was agreed that a check for $17,000 would be turned over to the writer of the letters.

The check was deposited, by agreement, in the stump of a tree in a wooded section of Weaver Heights, a Roanoke suburb. Letters between "Jones" and the extortion writer had been exchanged through leaving them in the hollow stump.

Banks here and in surrounding towns were informed of the trap, as the check was admittedly bogus. Today, guards in the state and city banks noticed Bryant enter, go to the window of Teller W. M. Skelton, who recognized the spurious paper which Bryant did not suspect.

SPECIAL DIET FED TO DISLODGE KNIFE

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 9.—(UP)—Five-year-old Raymond Willson, who swallowed a small, opened pocket knife after finishing his supper, is getting along nicely without an operation, hospital attaches reported today.

Raymond was fed a special diet by physicians who hoped that this method of treatment would avert a major operation for removal of the knife from the pit of the stomach. The instrument lodged with the blade downward.

Young Raymond's chief diet, through which physicians hope to eliminate the knife from his digestive tract, is spinach and shreds of cotton. The cotton, they hope, will wrap itself around the opened blade and prevent it from injuring the lad.

STRIKE AT HUDSON PLANT TERMINATED

DETROIT, Feb. 9.—(UP)—Striking Hudson Motor Car company workers were returning to work today with other Hudson workers recalled by the company.

Officials reported that 1000 of the 3000 strikers had taken their places in the body plant.

Return of the strikers enabled the company to recall 3000 additional workers, employees in the main plant and assembly lines.

PLAN CLEANUP AT WHITTIER STATE SCHOOL

Reorganization of Staff Along Lines Sought by Committee Seen

WHITTIER, Feb. 9.—Decision of the Ralph administration to make a cleanup at the Whittier State School for Boys and reorganize the staff of the school along lines being sought by the Citizens' committee, is anticipated as result of word received here today from the north.

The message from a reliable source was that following a conference of Governor Ralph with Dr. J. M. Turner, head of state institutions; Judge Matt Sullivan and Theo. Roche, advisors to the state executive, decision has been reached to "clean out Whittier from the top down."

It also is reported that the Citizens' committee, which long has been active in a campaign to have the school returned to its former basis, is to have a voice in determining who shall be superintendent of the institution, of which Dr. Carlos Sabich now is the head.

Speculation is rife here as to whether the administration forces, which have been under fire for appointments to the school, which is charged have been on the basis of providing jobs for members of the organization and their supporters rather than on the basis of the good of the school, are beginning to feel the effect of the recall movement now under way, and are beginning to make some concessions in an attempt to "turn off the heat."

CONFESSES TAKING SHOT AT RELATIVE

PASADENA, Cal., Feb. 9.—(UP)—Despite a plea of temporary insanity, W. B. Startman of San Diego today was under court order to stand trial on charges of murderous assault after he assertedly confessed firing a volley of shots at Mrs. James G. Graham of South Pasadena, a distant relative.

Startman was bound over when officers accused him of shooting at Mrs. Graham through a window. Although she escaped, her husband, who is 70, suffered a slight flesh wound. Officers said the accused assailant blamed the aged woman for stirring up trouble at his home.

CONTROLLED MARTS HELD AS SOLUTION

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9.—(UP)—"Controlled marketing" provides the solution for the plight of California agriculture, Simon J. Lubin, chief of the State Bureau of Commerce, declared today in his annual report.

Refusing to blame the general economic depression for the hardships of the state's agriculture, Lubin said the farm problem could not be solved without organized, systematic marketing methods.

Lubin pointed out that not only must growers organize their marketing, but a basis for co-operation between growers and eastern distributors of California products must be formed.

Seventh Man Is Believed Under Ruins

Brother of Fire Chief is Rescued After Being Trapped Six Hours

OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 9.—(UP)—A spectacular $200,000 fire that destroyed the Millard hotel, one of the city's landmarks, today claimed the lives of six firemen.

Fire officials listed the dead as Captains Thomas Shande and Florence Edward Smith, George Brandt, Frank Kane, Louis Morocco and Inspector Clarence Urban.

A seventh man, Fireman John Cogan, failed to answer company roll call. His comrades feared he was buried in the ruins of the hotel.

Captain George Cogan, brother of Fire Chief Patrick Cogan, was rescued after he had lain pinned under a girder for six hours.

Bodies of Shande, Brandt and Kane were buried beneath ten feet of debris from a fallen wall in an alley at the rear of the hotel. Smith was killed by falling debris.

Urban and Morocco were thrown into the basement of the building as they started on an exploratory tour. They too still were missing. George Cogan also plunged into the basement. He called other firemen and told them of his plight.

Rescuers were unable to move him. He was given stimulants. For six hours his fellow firemen worked at the girder before he was released.

Just before the girder was removed Cogan said:

"I guess its either lose my legs or call a priest and I guess I'll call the priest."

Father Edward M. Gleason hurried to the trapped man to give him absolution, arriving just as Cogan was freed.

Hospital authorities said he would live and that his limbs would be saved.

For a time communication was maintained with Urban. He told his comrades he was pinned beneath a timber.

Finally his voice ceased.

PAIR QUESTIONED IN KIDNAPING CASE

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 9.—(UP)—Police today resumed questioning of two persons held in technical custody in the investigation of the kidnaping of Mrs. Mary R. Skeele, 65, wife of the dean of music at the University of Southern California, and the attempted abduction of Miss Isabel Smith, 27, former music student at U. S. C.

Those quizzed were Louella Pearl Hammer, 28, also a former student of music at Southern California, and W. D. Hubbard, 39, said to be a caretaker for Miss Hammer.

They first were detained for questioning after an anonymous telephone call to police reported suspicious movements by the pair. They were held at police headquarters until early this morning and then permitted to retire, under police guard, to Miss Hammer's home.

Authorities called them to headquarters again today.

President Elect Roosevelt to Reward Women with Important Jobs

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 9.—(UP)—"Petticoat rule" holds no terrors for President-elect Roosevelt, and women will be eligible during his administration for many offices heretofore restricted to men. It was learned reliably today.

Mr. Roosevelt will not stop with the expected appointment of Miss Frances Perkins as secretary of labor, it was learned, but will throw the diplomatic service, important commissions and perhaps some major postmasterhips open to women with distinguished records of public service.

Congresswoman Ruth Bryan Owen of Florida was reported to be in line for minister to Denmark. Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross, former

STATE BOARD AND GOVERNOR DISAGREE

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 9.—(UP)—A definite break over tax policies between Governor Rolph and the state board of equalization was indicated here today in a statement issued by Fred E. Stewart, board member and director of the tax research bureau.

Stewart reiterated his charge that Governor Rolph was in error when he said recently that the tax research bureau had not showed in its report that public utility taxes required equalization.

The statement further declared the so-called Riley plan for revision of California's tax system had "much to offer the average citizen if retention of the present system means perpetuation of the gross inequalities existing in tax burdens borne by the ordinary property owner and the utilities."

BATTLE FLEET OFF TO DEFEND COAST

SAN PEDRO, Feb. 9.—(UP)—A powerful fleet of 125 United States warships prepared to scuttle out to sea today and take up positions along the Pacific coast, suddenly "threatened" by danger of attack.

Swiftly steaming toward the mainland was the dreaded "black enemy force," which, striking with secrecy and surprise, will test the vulnerability of coastal defenses in the final phase of the navy's annual war games.

Admiral Luke McNamee was in command of the defense or "blue" forces which moves out of the harbor this afternoon. By tomorrow night, the fleet will be divided in the most strategic positions to protect the coast from Canada to Magdalena bay.

WILL ROGERS SAYS

BEVERLY HILLS, Feb. 9. (To the Editor of The Register:) Glad to see the old U. S. Senate come clear like a good fair trial with all the evidence brought out on both sides that she would clear her fair name, and sho' nuff she did it. She just got right up and said, I am not guilty, and said it so convincingly that she made her own members (which was the jury) believe it. Mr. Barry takes up journalism exclusively now and the next sergeant-at-arms engaged will be a blind man, then there will be no writing about what he sees.

PROBE REVEALS JAPAN FORCES HIGH PREMIUM READY TO MOVE PAID BY STATE AGAINST JEHO

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Feb. 9.—(U.P.)—California was forced to pay $42 premium on each $100 bond in transactions totaling $2,180,000 in state funds. It was revealed today by the Senate investigation committee.

J. A. Craig, Sacramento salesman for the bond firm of Donnell and company, said his concern added $42 to the price they paid for bonds sold the state in order to make up the $60,000 loss incurred when they handled $2,700,000 worth of veterans' bonds for Rolland A. Vandegrift, state director of finance.

"Did Vandegrift know how much you were adding to the price of the bonds he was purchasing for the state?" Attorney Sheridan Downey asked Craig.

"No," Craig answered. Craig previously had testified he spent "100 per cent of my time" in state bond transactions. He said he bought $4,021,000 worth of bonds from the state and sold the state issues totaling $2,180,000 in a six-month period last year.

The transactions netted him a salesman's commission of $17,000, the testified.

After Craig had said his company gained approval of recognized bond attorneys for the transaction whereby Vandegrift assured them of future state business to make up the loss of $60,000 on the veterans' bond deal, Sen. W. P. Rich, Marysville, asked:

"Why did you seek such advice? Did you think there was something illegal about the deal?"

"I don't know," Craig answered. "I am not familiar with the legal details except that it's customary to consult your attorney in such a large deal."

In answer to a question Craig denied that Donnell and company was organized only for the purpose of handling the state's bond business.

Early in today's session Miss Barbara Worth, widely known Sacramento housewife, was called to the witness stand.

She testified she knew both George Passons, Jr., and George Passons, Sr., and testified they both appeared at horse shows in Menlo Park, Stockton, Pomona and Sacramento. The younger Passons, she similar to the tactics used in the three northern provinces, now formed into the "independent state" of Manchoukuo. Green-clad infantrymen, bombing airplanes, armored trains and other modern war machines were used to drive out regular and irregular Chinese troops.

The statement stressed the right of the state of Manchoukuo to "restoration order" in the rich and strategically important province. The war office reiterated the claim of Japan and Manchoukuo that Jehol is an integral part of the "independent state" of Manchoukuo.

It was charged that Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang, former war lord of Manchuria who now commands Chinese military forces in north China, had sent armies into Jehol. (The Chinese consider the province part of their territory and are preparing to defend it against the Japanese). Chinese soldiers are without sufficient supplies, the war office said, and are looting the province to live.

The statement emphasized that occupation of Jehol would in no way be connected with Japanese activity at the border city of Shanhaikwan, occupied several weeks ago by the Japanese. Jehol, the war office said, is a part of Manchuria, while Shanhaikwan is a part of China.

China has never conceded that Jehol is part of Manchuria or of Manchoukuo. The latter "independent state" is regarded as three provinces in rebellion.

This line of testimony was brief, Attorney Downey explaining he would attempt to show that one of the Passons was on the state payroll and that he spent most of his time taking care of the governor's horses. He admitted he did not know whether it was the father or son which was employed by the State Division of Forestry as a "fire fighter."

Barry was in charge of Governor Rolph's horse show horse, Don Pio Pico.

LIBEL ACTION IS VOTED DOWN IN COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(U.P.)—The senate judiciary committee today refused to authorize criminal libel proceedings against Alfred E. Smith's magazine, the "New Outlook," which printed David S. Barry's charge of congressional bribe taking.

The vote was 9 to 5. Before quashing the libel action the committee voted to eliminate from the proposed proceedings any further prosecution of Barry, former sergeant-at-arms who was dismissed because of the article.

The vote against favorably reporting the amended resolution directed solely against the magazine was:

Against (9), Borah, Robinson, Ind.; Hebert, Austin, Republicans, and King, Dill, Bratton, Black, Stephens, Democrats.

For (5), Norris and Schuyler, Republicans, and Ashurst, Walsh, Mont., and Neeley, Democrats.

Chairman Norris of the committee said sentiment was unanimous against further prosecution of Barry.

As originally drawn, the libel resolution, offered by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, would have certified to the federal district attorneys of Washington and the southern district of New York the record of Barry's unprecedented trial at the senate bar.

Norris said he was convinced the publishers of the "New Outlook" had libeled the senate and the house. The charge repeatedly was made on the senate floor during debate on Barry's removal.

"I don't think there is any doubt about conviction if congress could get a fair jury," Norris said.

As finally voted on, the defeated resolution expressed the senate judgment that the magazine was "equally guilty" with the author of the offending article. Instead of referring the record to the southern district of New York, however, it would have gone to the federal district attorney here.

Norris explained that it was found the only available jurisdiction in which the magazine could have been prosecuted was the District of Columbia.

MANILA, Feb. 9.—(U.P.)—The body of E. B. Barrett, torpedo man aboard the U. S. Submarine S-36, was found today hanging from a rope tied to a beam in a salt warehouse at Las Pinas, a small town south of Manila.

No marks of violence were found on the body, but civil authorities expressed doubt that Barrett had committed suicide. Naval officers reserved an opinion pending further investigation.

Barrett had been missing since yesterday when he went ashore on leave.

Only 10 centavos was found in his clothes. His companions aboard ship expressed belief he was carrying considerable money when he went ashore.

A WORD OF COMFORT

Simple people learned to use fire for warmth and for cooking. After that they discovered fire through beating stones together to amuse themselves or to frighten prowling beasts.

You will discover that the struggle merely to keep going in the face of your grief brings you unsuspected strength and abiding peace. When mere living seems almost too trying a task, your earnest effort will store up reserve power for all the days ahead.

COUNTY MAY BUY SUPPLIES FROM JOBLESS

A plan whereby the county would purchase certain groceries from the Santa Ana Unemployed association through the Citizen's Emergency Unemployment relief committee, was revealed today at a conference of members of the Citizen's committee and Supervisor John Mitchell in the unemployed headquarters on North Main street.

Means of county aid to the unemployed of Santa Ana was discussed at the meeting. The county welfare department, under the proposed plan, which has not been fully worked out yet, would draw orders for groceries for those receiving county aid to the extent of certain articles which could be supplied by the unemployed association.

If action is taken and the plan is adopted, the money made available to the unemployed by this city through the drawing of county orders on the unemployed commissary would be used to purchase staple groceries which are needed by the unemployed.

J. S. Smart, chairman of the Citizen's committee, estimated that the Unemployed association would benefit to the extent of about $1000 a month through the operation of the plan. The money would be of great benefit to the unemployed and at the same time would not impair the quality of the food delivered to those receiving county aid, Smart pointed out.

Members of the Citizen's committee believed that Supervisor Mitchell was favorably impressed with the plan.

Mayor Paul Witmer also attended the meeting.

Beach Man Faces Charge Of Theft

H. L. Hall, 38, of 152 Neito street, Long Beach was booked at the county jail last night by deputy sheriffs, on a grand theft charge.

Hall is charged with stealing a motor, worth $250, from the Nuoli Oil lease, at Huntington Beach, on June 20, of last year. He was at one time superintendent of the lease, it was learned.

HEADS RECALL

George H. Sehmeyer, below, master of the California State Grange, organization sponsoring the recall of Gov. Rolph, was in Santa Ana yesterday and today during a trip through Southern California, making a survey of the situation.

SENTIMENT FOR ROLPH RECALL IS WIDESPREAD

Sentiment favoring recall of Governor James Rolph Jr. is prevalent everywhere in the state, according to George H. Sehmeyer of Sacramento, master of the California State Grange, who was in Santa Ana yesterday and today.

He is in Southern California making a survey of the situation and reports favorable progress.

The head of the organization sponsoring the recall attempt declared that statements by opponents that the recall would cost citizens of the state $500,000 were greatly exaggerated and that the recall could be conducted at a cost of approximately $300,000.

At the same time he pointed out that it is possible that the recall election could be combined with the tax relief amendment being considered by the state legislature, which is a state constitutional amendment and which must be submitted to a vote of the people, and under that circumstance the cost would be nil.

Sehmeyer said that keeping Rolph in office would cost taxpayers of the state far more than the cost of the election and that a saving could be effected because of this. He pointed out that Governor Rolph started his term of office with $31,000,000 in the treasury, and at the end of two years the state government is short $10,000,000.

Circulation of petitions asking for the recall election is expected to start next week, he said. The movement is to be financed by popular subscriptions.

Cancel Plans For Affair In Orange

MAN QUICKLY CLEARED IN SHOTGUN CASE

C. B. Beadles, Santa Ana man, who took two shots at a car which contained his wife and another man, was freed of a charge of assault with a deadly weapon in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court yesterday, for lack of evidence.

He testified on the stand that he shot at the couple merely as a warning and to frighten them and that he had no intent of injuring either of them. The case was dismissed at the motion of the district attorney with the consent of the complaining witness, Mrs. Viola Beadles, the wife.

She told the court that she and her husband had become reconciled.

Beadles, on February 3, surprised his wife out riding with Jack Nicholson, Orange man, who works for a plumbing concern here. He yelled to them to stop and when they did not heed his command fired a shotgun at their car. Two shots were fired and the rear of the machine was damaged by the bird shot.

Justice Morrison lectured both the wife and Nicholson at the time he dismissed the case, stating that the country goes to pieces when its homes are disrupted. He intimated that he did not blame Beadles for his actions, in that he did not harm either the man or the woman. Beadles had stated that he had a better chance to fire at them a few moments sooner, but waited until they had gotten far enough away, so that the shots would not injure.

MAKES STATEMENT ON MENINGITIS CASE

With one case of spinal meningitis reported in the Hoover school of Santa Ana Dr. Kenneth H. Sutherland today issued a statement tending to allay fears of parents of children in the school and city generally.

Dr. Sutherland said that the case reported in the Hoover school is the only one in the county at present and the situation is being closely watched by both the school health department and county health department.

There is no evidence of further spread of the disease, he said, but to eliminate the possibility of a carrier being in the group, health department officials today made nasal and pharyngeal cultures of all students in the room from which the case was reported.

The case of meningitis was revealed Tuesday when one of the Hoover school pupils, in the first grade, became ill. Laboratory tests completed yesterday verified the diagnosis of the disease. The patient is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Dickey, 2414 French street.

JURY GRANTS $750 AWARD AS DAMAGES

Suing for damages totalling $20,000, for injuries received in an automobile accident last September, Miss Eileen Rae, Long Beach beauty shop operator, last night was awarded damages of $750 by a jury in department two, superior court. The judgment was against W. F. Dalley, driver of the other automobile involved in the accident.

Miss Rae was seriously injured September 27, last, when her automobile and one driven by Dalley collided in Huntington Beach at the intersection of Huntington Beach avenue and Main street. She charged Dalley with operating his car in a reckless and negligent manner.

Miss Rae sought $15,000 general damages for her injuries; $1000 which she alleged she was forced to spend for an assistant in her beauty shop while she was in the hospital; $2500 for loss of patrons who insisted on her individual attention; and an additional $500 for medical fees. The jury verdict awarding her $750 was returned before Superior Judge James L. Allen after 25 minutes of deliberation.

Police News

John Lauder, 58, of 927 East Pine street, was arrested by Santa Ana police last night on a drunk charge. He was lodged in the county jail.

Bailey Krisher, 20, of 2015 South Hallday street, was arrested on a warrant charging breach of the peace, late yesterday. The complaining witness is Kenneth Vincent, Santa Ana. Krisher was lodged in the county jail by Santa Ana officers.

QUIET TITLE DECREE GRANTED H. WALKER

Title to property in Orange county was cleared yesterday in favor of Henry C. Walker, the owner, through a court ruling by Judge G. K. Scovel removing from the records of the county a promissory note of record and a trust deed given to secure the note.

The suit was instituted by Walker and named as defendants: the Orange County Mortgage Corporation, Reliance Title company, Harry H. Ball, Allison C. Honer, Henry C. Ehlen and Miss Justine Whitney, recorder of Orange county. In his suit Walker alleged that the note, for which the trust deed had been given as security, had been paid in full.

According to his complaint, Walker, on February 24, 1931, executed a note to Ball and Honer for $2000 and gave a trust deed on his property as security. In April the note was assigned to Henry Ehlen and never recorded. Ehlen, in turn, assigned the note and trust deed to the Orange County Mortgage Corporation, and the transaction again was not recorded.

Legislation Being Discussed at Farm Bureau Meetings

Agricultural legislation now pending in the state legislature is being considered this afternoon at two meetings to be held at the Orange County Farm Bureau.

Directors of the bureau's citrus department are devoting the afternoon to consideration and discussion of a bill now before the legislature that would, if adopted, make pro-rating of citrus products in California compulsory.

The Farm Bureau's legislative committee also is holding a session this afternoon for the purpose of considering proposed agricultural legislation and other farm problems. One of the bills being given considerable attention by this committee is the measure relative to proposals for regulation of trucking on the highways.

The note, according to Walker's allegation, was paid in full August 31, 1931, to the Orange County Mortgage company, but the deed of trust still is a matter of record, with no release or reconveyance shown.

MAN EXPECTED TO DIE SAID TO BE BETTER

The condition of Rafael Jordan, 2309 South Main street, and Aurelio Ortiz, Delhi, both injured when they fought at Delhi last Sunday night, were improved today, according to the Orange county hospital where the men are confined.

Jordan was alleged to have been cut by Ortiz and Ortiz was injured when he was struck over the head by Ramon Coronas, 30, West First street, whom police said was trying to stop the fight between Jordan and Ortiz.

First information was to the effect that Ortiz was probably fatally injured, when it was said that he suffered a severe fracture of the skull. He has shown steady improvement for the past two days, however.

Coronas is being held in the county jail and Ortiz and Jordan are under arrest at the hospital.

QUITE A LITTLE MAN
CAIRO, Egypt.—They grow them small in Egypt. A 21-year-old youth arrived in Cairo recently to report for military duty with the other men of the village of Beni Hodeir. This youth measured the astounding height of 24 inches in his stocking feet, and weighed about 20 pounds. He was very proud because he had been called for military duty.

SAYS HIGHER STANDARDS FOR WOMEN NEEDED

Selfishness, greediness, lack of religion in the hearts of men and the lowering of the standards of womanhood are responsible for the problems that are troubling the world today, according to the Rev. R. P. (Bob) Shuler who spoke last night at Spurgeon Memorial M. E. church here on "The Problems of Today and How to Meet Them."

Selfishness, greed, the desire for other people's money and the desire to "get something for nothing" has taken the soul out of people and is wrecking the influence of the church and everything else, the speaker declared.

"If Roosevelt goes to bat for the people to give them an opportunity for life, love, the pursuit of happiness and the inalienable right to earn a livelihood the big interests won't stand for it. If he does not, the people won't stand for it."

Pointing to juvenile delinquency the speaker said that 65 per cent of the juvenile delinquents in Los Angeles come from broken homes and that the basic cause of 85 per cent of the delinquency is traceable to the home. Boys who are wards of the court, the speaker said, are no different from other boys except for the one fact—they did not have an opportunity.

He said we must get back to the beginning of things, to the home and to the training of children, to the embodiment of virtue at the mother's knee if this condition is ever cured.

It is the woman who makes the home. When they held their banner high they held up civilization, but now when womanhood is cheapening and women have come down to the standards of men, smoke cigarettes and wear pants, civilization starts to crumble.

Every great moral crusade, he said, was led by the women. The women led the anti-saloon crusade because the men lacked the courage. The business man was afraid to take the leadership because of his fear that it would cost him patronage.

"Today our moral standards and ideals are becoming soft and flabby," he said. "When justice, honesty, right, manhood and womanhood are again supreme then our problems will be on the way to a solution."

Preceding Shuler's address The Piney Wood Singers from Mississippi entertained with a group of numbers that were well received.

Explanation Of Legislature Is Given Students

In speaking of his experiences in the state legislature before members of Santa Ana Junior college social science seminar yesterday afternoon, in the college building, James Utt, representative of the seventy-fourth district, explained the mechanics of the legislature.

Touching briefly on how it is organized, Utt pointed out some of the difficulties encountered by the various committees, which meet to consider the introduction of bills before the houses. One of the more interesting features of his talk, according to L. L. Beeman, adviser of the seminar, was of the rules, the inside work of the committees and the jokes that are played on members.

Utt explained very thoroughly the question of expenses of the state, and of the plans to reduce these expenses by the bill now before the legislature intended to reform the taxation system of the state.

Wilton Hillard, president, presided during the meeting.

CIVIC AFFAIRS PROGRAM FOR KIWANIS CLUB

Arranged by Mayor Paul Witmer, the second of a series of civic affairs programs was staged at the Santa Ana Kiwanis club meeting at Ketter's cafe yesterday noon.

John Knox, former mayor, was program chairman of the day. He introduced each member of the city council, J. L. McBride, A. C. Hasenjaeger, William Penn and E. G. Warner, who outlined the activities of the various city departments over which they have jurisdiction.

Councilman Penn introduced Chief John Luxembourg of the city fire department, who outlined the work of the department.

Entertainment for the meeting was provided by a group of colored singers from the Piney Woods school at Piney Woods, Mississippi, who had appeared before the club in the past and who were warmly received at the meeting yesterday.

Carter H. Lane, a new member of the club, was introduced.

HURWITZ SALE TO RAISE CASH; NOT CLOSING BUSINESS

Sam Hurwitz, well known Santa Ana merchant, is now conducting a store-wide $35,000 cash emergency sale. It was announced today, in order to meet pressing obligations.

"We are not going out of business," Hurwitz said. "We will liquidate some of our enormous stock and pay our creditors. The sale will continue until we reach our objective."

"Meeting our obligations means more to us than the sacrifice of thousands of dollars worth of merchandise, and, judging by the response of our friends and the advantage the public has taken of the most astounding values ever offered in quality merchandise for men and boys, we expect to reach our goal within a short time."

VOCALISTS, MOVIES AT BREAKFAST CLUB

Three vocalists were featured in a program presented to members and guests of the Orange County Breakfast club in the Green Cat cafe this morning.

Gloria Hunt, Thomas Gemberling and Henrietta Armendariz sang, accompanied at the piano by Art Cannon, club pianist. Ted Newcomb acted as master of ceremonies during the program, which was presented through the courtesy of the Southern California Booking agency.

Ivie Stein, who was in charge of the program, showed 15 minutes of travel moving pictures at the conclusion of the entertainment program.

Harry A. Scott of the Southern Meat company, Anaheim, was introduced as a new member of the club.

UTT PREDICTS POSSIBILITY OF AD VALOREM TAX

Interesting facts concerning the state legislature, its problems and its work were discussed Tuesday night at a meeting of the weekly Open Forum, at the Y. M. C. A. building, with James B. Utt Jr., assemblyman from this district, as the speaker.

Utt discussed many of the bills now being considered and answered a number of questions propounded from the audience relative to different measures.

He declared that the paramount question before the state legislative body was the balancing of the budget, and while he felt there were some plans which had been advanced that may work so that the budget could be balanced, he told his hearers that it was not improbable that an ad valorem tax would have to be levied against property in order to raise sufficient funds for the government's existence this year.

New Revenue
He declared that new sources of revenue must be found, pointing out that the cost of government could not be materially cut due to the fact that much of the cost is fixed, voted by the people at large.

He told of the investigating committee scanning a payroll of some 16,000 persons, suggesting cuts here and there, and told several stories relative to overpaid positions, including several telephone operators which were receiving from $200 to $300 per month; janitors who received more than $200 per month; political ex-retainers drawing from $300 to $500 per month.

He said that the entire cutting of salaries which will be done would save some $3,000,000 a year, and that the efficiency of state employees would be just as great after the cuts were made.

Special Attorney Fees
This committee also found where attorneys had received retainer fees for the handling of special funds at salaries that ran as high as $7000 per annum, Utt declared, and this when cut out will save the state government several hundred thousands of dollars, he said.

In discussing the state's contribution to the schools, Utt declared that he did not feel that the state would cut its contribution in that the increase in costs were in the counties and not in the state. He said that he favored the state controlling the county — After March fourth there will be an early fight to unseat Joe Robinson of Arkansas as Democratic leader in the senate. The progressives don't like Joe and they may look to Roosevelt to help them demote him. Certainly Huey will start a terrific fight on Robinson, who happens to be his special hate. Already he has damaged the Arkansas leader considerably.

There have been various guesses as to just when Joe would double up his fists and start trying to wipe up the senate floor with Huey—literally, not figuratively. Joe has a reputation as a fighter who drops his man.

SAFETY FILM BEING MADE BY AUTHORITIES

To assist in the safety campaign being conducted in the schools, George Franklin, school officer of the California highway patrol, is taking a motion picture titled "The School Child in Traffic." Scenes of the picture are being taken in the various schools of the county.

Peterkin purchased a motion picture machine and projector for use in educating and protecting the school children. The picture he is preparing at this time will be shown in the various schools and will demonstrate the right and wrong things to do in traffic and emergencies.

The pictures show every hazard faced by children on their way to and from school, and the children themselves enact the scenes. Many scenes are taken from moving

CHAMBER AIDS FISHERMEN BY NEW CAMPAIGN

NEWPORT BEACH, Feb. 9.—More attention to marketing of fresh fish here was urged at a meeting of the community trade committee of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce last night at the chamber office, when the campaign to increase the use of fish was advanced.

The campaign is being pushed partly to co-operate in a state wide campaign for the increased use of fresh fish and also to aid in welfare work in this community, where practically the only ones in need are commercial fishermen.

Some valuable aid is being given on this and other fishing communities in the campaign. One leaflet issued by the state department of agriculture points out the high food value and health-giving qualities of fresh salt-water fish.

"Fresh salt-water fish contains a greater number of health giving minerals than any other food known to mankind, and these minerals are absolutely essential in the building of tissue, bones and teeth," says the leaflet.

Statements that fresh fish dealers and other merchants make use of the various facilities offered by the Newport Beach railway station were made at the meeting, and several stated they would write to the state railroad commission in opposition to closing the station, for which the Southern Pacific has made application.

HOW WOMEN CAN WIN MEN AND MEN WIN

The Favor of Other Men

Unless two pints of bile juice flow daily from your liver into your bowels, your food decays in your bowels. This poisons your whole body. Movements get hard and constipated. You get yellow tongue, yellow skin, pimples, dull eyes, bad breath, bad taste, gas, dizziness, headache. You have become an ugly-looking, foul-smelling, sour-thinking person. You have lost your personal charm. Everybody wants to run from you.

But don't take salts, mineral waters, oils, laxative pills, laxative candies or chewing gums and expect them to get rid of this poison that destroys your personal charm. They can't do it, for they only move out the tail end of your bowels and that doesn't take away enough of the decayed poison. Cosmetics won't help at all.

Only a free flow of your bile juice will stop this decay poison in your bowels. The one mild vegetable medicine which starts a free flow of your bile juice is Carter's Little Liver Pills. No calomel (mercury) in Carter's. Only fine, mild vegetable extracts. If you would bring back your personal charm to win men, start taking Carter's Little Liver Pills according to directions today.

But refuse "something just as good" for it may gripe, loosen teeth and scald the rectum. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for.

JOHN STANTON IS HOST FOR ANNUAL MEET

Chief of Police Floyd W. Howard of the Santa Ana police department was unanimously elected president of the Orange County Police Officers' association, when that organization met at the Knights of Pythias hall, Tustin, last night, to elect officers for the year.

Laverne Keller, popular chief of police of Huntington Beach, was named vice president; Harry Fink, assistant chief of police of Santa Ana, was named secretary and treasurer, and Robert Sandon, investigator for the district attorney's office, was elected to the office of sergeant-at-arms. Trustees named were Inspector Fred Vallejo, of the California Highway Patrol and Leo Frills, deputy district attorney.

There was no opposition to any of the candidates. Howard goes to the presidency from the office of first vice president which office he has held during the past year. He succeeds R. R. Hodgkinson, chief of police of Newport Beach. Keller succeeds Howard, Fink succeeds Jess Elliott, constable. Sandon replaces Constable William Tremaine of Brea.

In a final address before the association, some 100 members of which were present, Chief Hodgkinson thanked the "wheel horses" of the organization for a successful year in 1932 declaring that the organization had steadily gone forward in its aims and that it was due, not to his leadership, but to the co-operation he had received from the association as a whole and particularly to the work that had been accomplished by several "wheel horses."

The meeting last night started with a turkey dinner with John Stanton, chief of police of Tustin, acting as host. Stanton had an unusually good entertainment program which included the Junior College quartet, Dick Diggs and Motorcycle Officer George Stinson, all in singing numbers.

In a short business session held prior to the election of officers, the association decided to hold an annual dance on Thanksgiving night, place to be named later.

Earl Abbey, coroner, and Bert Casteln, deputy coroner, were taken in as new members and a report of C. W. Wolford and Harry Fink, acting as a committee, was adopted. This report cut the association members' dues to $4 per year and made them due on July 1 of each year.

The annual report of Jess Elliott, retiring secretary and treasurer, showed there were 168 regular members of the association and 79 associate members.

Vance Due For Big Pay Slash At St. Louis

PETTED MOUND STAR TO WORK ON STERN CLUB

BY LES CONKLIN
(I. N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—(INS)—“Dazzy” Vance, for 10 years the prima donna of the National league, got the shock of his eventful life today.

The pampered and petted pitching star of the Brooklyn Dodgers found himself under the stern and disciplinary regime of Messrs. Sam Breadon and Branch Rickey, who wouldn't concede a two-inch putt.

Although the former strikeout king collected something like $115,000 from Brooklyn in the last eight seasons, he will be lucky to get more than $8000 this year from the eagle-eyed executives of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Only two years ago Vance drew $25,000, the highest salary ever paid a pitcher. Last season he got $15,000 but won only 12 games against 11 defeats.

To add insult to injury, the four-man trade between the Cards and Dodgers last night amounted to Vance being swapped for the pitcher who lost more games last year than any other National league hurler—Owen Carroll. The latter, obtained by St. Louis from Cincinnati last month, goes to Brooklyn with infielder Jake Flowers for Vance and Shortstop Gordon Slade. No cash was involved, it was announced.

Exchange is Curious. Both Flowers and Slade are shortstops, and both are likely to be regulars this year. The exchange is a curious one. The Cards didn't consider Flowers a good enough substitute for Charles Gelbert, out of commission with an injured foot, and the Dodgers didn't consider Slade capable enough to fill in for Glenn Wright in case Wright's throwing arm and ankles go back on him again.

Manager “Gaby” Street is going to lose plenty of sleep with two such temperamental characters as Rogers Hornsby and Vance on his hands. When “Dazzy” was in his heyday with the Dodgers, his every whim was honored. The ban on golf was lifted for him; he rarely would consent to do relief duty; he insisted on at least four days rest between games, instead of the usual three; and in recent years, he “picked his spots.”

Wanted to Conserve Arm. It wasn't that “Dazzy” was lazy. He was shrewd. The big fireball hurler wanted to conserve that steel right arm of his, the wing that won him seven straight championship, low earned run honors in two seasons, a no-hit game against the Phillies in 1925, and a world record of fanning seven consecutive batters. He won 187 games and lost 126 in 11 years with Brooklyn, and almost pitched the Dodgers to a pennant in 1924 when he won 28 games and lost only six. He was voted the league's most valuable player that year.

Brooklyn fandom is sure to resent the passing of Vance, even if the 1933 season reverses the general impression that the Dodgers got stung in the trade.

Trading of Slade marked the final flop of a $54,000 investment for the Dodgers. They paid that for Slade and Mickey Finn, sent to the Phillies recently.

Shaugnessy's selection was announced by Thomas McCall, new athletic director at Chicago, ending speculation that linked several of the nation's foremost grid coaches as possible successors to the veteran, Stagg.

Shaugnessy is expected at Chicago in time to take charge of spring football practice, which begins April 1.

Shaugnessy is a graduate of the University of Minnesota, where he was one of the most outstanding athletes of the school's sport history.

U. C. L. A. GETS CREW. While other schools in the country have abandoned a college crew squad, the University of California at Los Angeles has adopted this sport. A crew is being formed to meet California and Washington in a triangular race April 22 at Long Beach.

Eleven S. A. Cagers Win Monograms

Eleven basketball players will receive monograms at Santa Ana high school on the basis of their 1933 performances.

Although making his awards on the number of quarters each candidate had in league competition, Coach Bill Cook also took into consideration that several of his squad members were delayed on account of Santa Ana's prolonged football season.

Francis Conrad, Allen Kidder, Ernie Acker and Weston Sprague, forwards; Fred Wiemer, Walt Hendrie and Harold Youel, centers; Bob Wimbush, Clair Preininger, Bob Schwarm and Al Thienen were the players named by Cook.

The Saints will select an honorary captain within the next few days. Lawrence Lutz, now at the University of California, was honored last season.

BACK IN PARIS TO COLLECT

Jack Johnson and his missus are shown as they appeared the other day in Paris. . . Jack is seeking to collect a purse held up since 1914. He says he needs the money now. Minott Saunders' story below tells about it.

JOHNSON AFTER FRENCH GOLD

Bank Still Holds Moran Bout Purse Attached in 1913 AND JACK NEEDS MONEY NOW

BY MINOTT SAUNDERS
NEA Service Writer

PARIS, Feb. 9.—After 20 years' absence from Paris, Jack Johnson, once celebrated along the boulevards as “The Black Prince,” has been looking longingly at the Bank of France, now celebrated for its gold deposit. In some murky corner of that institution there is gold that belongs to Jack.

It is a story that goes back to that great day, memorable in the annals of late June, 1914, when Johnson defended his title of heavyweight champion of the world against Frank Moran at the Velodrome Buffalo here, and won a decision after battering Frank for 20 rounds. The house was crowded, for Jack was a great favorite.

But while the crowd was still acclaiming him, Jack hustled to the box office to get his purse. Alas! It had been attached. Moran could get nothing either. And to this day that game money remains in the Bank of France, pending an adjustment of a bitter controversy between the principals.

The original purse was for $25,000 and Jack estimates that now, with interest, it should amount to about $125,000. He can use the money; so can Moran, and they are pulling together for a settlement. Jack has put lawyers on the trail in the hope that before long all concerned, who remain alive, will be able to collect.

There was a good deal of preliminary ballyhoo about that fight, which old-timers can recall. It was widely advertised that the purse was for $100,000, for Jack didn't want to let it be known that his value as heavyweight champion had deteriorated since his flight from the United States, after he had jumped bail, and crossed a state border, with a woman, rendering him liable to punishment under the Mann act.

To prove to the sporting public that the purse was a fat one, a check was drawn, signed and photographed. But before the camera plate had been developed the check, in the presence of all concerned, was torn up.

That's the story of Charlie McCarthy, debonaire theatrical promoter, who died here seven years ago. Charlie had been an actor, and he had a fine sense of the dramatic. Also he was a product of California in the days when men didn't like to be double-crossed.

Charlie signed the check, he always admitted, just to help the game along. He had a distinguished presence and inspired confidence. For his good offices he was to receive 5 per cent of the gate, he would relate. But just before the fight he learned that there was a scheme afoot to do him out of his share, so he promptly put an attachment on the works. He would confide to his friends that he turned up at the fight with a gun handy in case Jack or anybody else started to make trouble.

SET FEB. 25 AS DATE OF SANT. POMONA MEET

On account of an unconditioned track at Pomona college, the meet which Santa Ana Hi had arranged with Pomona's Frosh for tomorrow has been postponed until February 25.

Another reason for the postponement, according to Coach “Chuck” Webber, was due to Pomona's lack of preparation. The Sagehens have just entered a new semester, and have not been working out for any length of time.

Pomona's request for the February 25 date conflicts with a Santa Ana practice engagement with Riverside Poly, but Webber is certain the Tigers will accept the Saints on some bye date, perhaps in April.

The Saint mentor was trying today to arrange a workout tomorrow with some Orange league team at Poly field. Garden Grove, Tustin, Anaheim and Orange all were being considered.

Clipping three-tenths of a second off his best 1933 record, Bruce Swishelm ran the 100 in 10.3 in trials at the high school yesterday. Major Anderson and Russell Ramsdell were not far behind at the tape. Swishelm hit 10.6 in his first workout Monday.

Five new athletes, including Howard Morgan, transfer from San Bernardino, have reported to Webber. Morgan, who earned his letter at San Bernardino in the sprints and low hurdles; Herbert Kortman, Delbert Tucker, Bill Curnutt and Francis Rowell were the new aspirants. The latter three belong to Class B ranks, Tucker specializing in the dashes, Rowell in the pole vault, Curnutt in the distances.

Kortman, reserve tackle on Coach “Tex” Oliver's football squad, has signed for the weight events, particularly the shot put.

Relay trials have resulted in the selection of Captain Floyd Montgomery, Walt Kring, Swishelm and Anderson for the varsity four-man team to enter the Orange Show Relays at San Bernardino a week from Saturday. They will make the trip with Art Stranske, shot-putter.

Kid Chocolate Allowed To Reenter U. S.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(U.P.)—Secretary of Labor Dask today issued an order which would permit Kid Chocolate, featherweight boxer, to re-apply for entry into the United States at any time this year.

The order also applied to the boxer's manager, Luis Gutierrez. Both now are in Havana, Cuba. They were denied entry when they landed at Key West, January 19, because Chocolate had not prepared proper credentials.

It was learned several prominent persons in New York, including Representative LaGuardia of New York, had made representations to the department seeking official permission for Chocolate to re-enter the country.

“Boxing now accounts for only a small percentage of our revenue,” added Harold Dibble, the Garden booking agent, who went on to explain that hockey, six-day bicycle races, the circus, the horse show, the dog show and kindred enterprises were more desirable from the standpoint of the box office.

Cyclists Draw $300,000 Annually. The arena, it seems, does a million dollars worth of business through the “season,” which runs from October 1 to May 15. Of this amount, bicycle races alone have contributed as much as $300,000 in a single week. As for hockey, it practically sells the place out three times a week.

“We're rapidly getting away from the idea that the Garden is a boxing club,” says Carey. “It isn't any more. It's a sports club, with hockey, wrestling, track meets and other competitions occupying most of our attention. Boxing now is only a small part of our business.”

“And,” he added, significantly, “it's going to get smaller.” He declined to comment on the status, under the revised order of business, of Mr. James J. Johnston, the $15,000 matchmaker, other than to intimate that Mr. Johnston had his approval.

May Change “Fight Night.” Nor could he be pinned down to a statement that Friday, the weekly “fight night” at the Garden, might have to compete for priority every now and then with some sport whose appeal at the time happened to be greater. However, the inference seemed clear. Boxing is doing well enough. But it isn't bringing in the big pay-off night of the week and, coupling Carey's statements today with what I learned from other sources, the assumption is that there will be some nights when it will have to yield its position of preference and perhaps others when it will have to give way altogether.

A lot will depend on the fight itself. If it can't mix at the box office, the Garden will give it every chance. If it can and will and does, the Garden may reserve the right to throw it right out on the trolley tracks to die in its own blood.

Briefly, it has decided that there's no point in going through with a fight just for the sake of turning on the lights.

OTHER SPORTS PROVIDE MOST OF ‘GATE’ NOW

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
(I. N. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—(INS)—It probably sounds a little grotesque to those who saw the golden flood of dollars mount high from ringside to rafters in the days of its greatness. Nevertheless, boxing, that world of tinsel and make-believe around which Rickard built his dreams of empire, is soon to be dismasted as a major factor in the affairs of Madison Square Garden, an institution that boxing made possible.

It won't be abandoned altogether; merely allowed to find its natural level of importance.

“We're not going to fool around with boxing much longer,” William F. Carey, the Garden president, said today.

“Boxing now accounts for only a small percentage of our revenue,” added Harold Dibble, the Garden booking agent, who went on to explain that hockey, six-day bicycle races, the circus, the horse show, the dog show and kindred enterprises were more desirable from the standpoint of the box office.

SHARKEY EXTENDS CONTRACT UNTIL SEPTEMBER

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—(INS)—Jack Sharkey, heavyweight champion, has resumed his contract with Madison Square Garden from next June until September, according to an unconfirmed report that startled cauliflower alley today.

If the Garden continues its hold on Sharkey, it would hold the whip hand over Promoter Jack Dempsey for a bout between Sharkey and the winner of the June match between Max Schmeling, former champion, and Max Baer, Dempsey is promoting the latter match.

Dempsey and Joe Jacobs, Schmeling's manager, had figured after Sharkey's contract with the Garden expired they could lure him away for a bout this fall with the Schmeling-Baer winner, under Dempsey's promotion.

With Sharkey lined up for a September match, the Garden could cancel its proposed June title fight between Sharkey and the winner of the Primo Carnera-Ernie Schaaf bout here tomorrow night, if it considered such a match unattractive.

Do You Remember

Just after Joe McCarthy was made manager of the New York Yankees, he was a guest at a dinner given by the New York club. Lou Gehrig, belting first sacker of the Gothamites, was there among others.

Marge Joe wasn't very well known in the American league, as most of his campaigning had been done in the older circuit.

Lou was cutting his steak correctly and getting along in a fine way until a friend tapped him on the back and introduced him to some one or other.

“Finally I couldn't take any more of it. He came back again, and I told the guy, without even looking up, that I didn't want anything to do with him or anyone who was with him.

“Then I had the shock of my life. The man who was with him spoke up and said that he was sorry, but that he was afraid I'd have a lot to do with him from then on.

“He was Joe McCarthy.”

“You know,” Lou relates, “I can't stand anyone bringing me when I'm eating. This fellow knew my falling, and he kept bringing people over to meet me.

HONOR MEMORY OF J. C. FARRAR: TALK PENSIONS

At the last meeting of the Calumet camp, United Spanish War Veterans, the charter was draped in honor of Past Commander J. C. Farrar, whose death occurred since the last previous meeting; notice was given for the election of a trustee for the unexpired term of Farrar.

In addition, Past Department Commander Charles E. Dixon was appointed camp reporter; Commander Sherman Glaze and Chaplain William Brown were complimented on the excellence of their ritualistic work; an invitation was accepted by the camp to visit the Constitution (Old Ironsides), at San Pedro, on February 19; and there was much discussion over the efforts of the National Economy league to do away with pensions, disability allowances and hospitalization.

The following statements relative to Spanish war pensions were brought up at the meeting:

"None of the money for the payment of war pensions comes out of municipal, county or state taxes.

"The pension bureau lists 266 Spanish war pensioners living in Orange county.

"The national legislative committee fixed the age of the average Spanish war veteran at 59 years and his average pension at $43. Thus 266 times $43, with the $30 widows' pensions and the pensions of the dependent children, amounts to over $15,000 per month, or more than $180,000 per year, which is practically all spent in Orange county.

"It is estimated that 75 per cent of the Spanish war pensioners live and keep their families on their pension money, and if pensions and hospitalization ceased, these 75 per cent would be forced to seek county aid and throw more than 200 families on the county welfare department.

"Allowing $20 per month per family, it would cost the taxpayers of Orange county more than $50,000 per year for their maintenance."

SPANISH-AMERICAN CLUB HOLDS MEET

The Spanish-American Club of Orange County, an organization founded last summer and composed of descendants of the early Spanish settlers of California, Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado and Texas, now residents of Orange county, held its second social event Tuesday night in the Our Lady of Guadalupe Hall at 1314 East Third Street.

There were 150 present. A short business meeting preceded the social section, and addresses were made by officers and others, including N. D. Meyer, president; Sol Gonzales, director, and Rufus Nieblas. Refreshments were served and this was followed by dancing. Several vocal and musical numbers were presented. The Fremont school orchestra furnished music for the evening.

Some of the purposes of the Spanish-American club are to promote and protect the social, political and economic rights and privileges of all American citizens as well as to serve to perpetuate the early romantic history of the conquest and development of this country, according to members of the organization.

SUNSET MAN ASKS OYSTER BED FENCE

SUNSET BEACH, Feb. 9.—Frank Haegele, Sunset Beach cafe man, has made application to the war department, United States engineer's office, for permission to fence certain sloughs in Anaheim bay for use as oyster beds. A map showing location of the proposed fences and oyster beds will be on exhibition at the office of Major W. H. Lanagan at 751 South Figueroa street, Los Angeles, until 11 a. m., February 17. Objections based on other than navigation interests cannot be considered, Major Lanagan states. Interested citizens are invited to inspect the map.

Haegele caused the arrest of a Glendale man several months ago on charges that he had disturbed his oyster beds in the bay. The action was later dismissed.

LA HABRA GIRL BECOMES BRIDE BERKELEY MAN

LA HABRA, Feb. 9.—A pretty home wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walker, when their lovely daughter, Helen Louise, became the bride of Theodore Boyd Mitchell of Berkeley Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Standing before the fireplace in the home, with tall white tapers lighting the scene, the couple was married by Rev. J. A. M. Crouch of Fort Morgan, Colo., an old-time friend of the family. The bride wore a simple afternoon gown of eggshell satin and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and ferns. She had no attendants. An honored guest was her grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Kenney, who came here for the occasion from Missouri.

Mr. Mitchell had as his best man C. Russell Rees of Pasadena, a college friend. Mrs. R. L. Shaw, mother of the groom, from Berkeley, also attended the wedding.

Following a reception and the serving of the wedding supper, the young couple left for a short honeymoon trip, and will make their home in San Francisco, where the groom is employed.

The new Mrs. Mitchell is a graduate of Wellesley college of Massachusetts and of Berkeley, and Mr. Mitchell is a graduate of Stanford university.

MAURICE ZAM OPENS PIANO CLASS IN S. A.

Decision on the part of Maurice Zam, young American pianist whose talents received unusual recognition in European music centers, to take a limited number of piano pupils and form a master class for piano teachers and advanced musicians, for the time he is to remain in Santa Ana, will be received here with special interest.

Maurice Zam was programmed as the second artist on the Orange County Civic Music association concert course, playing in Anaheim Pythian hall on the night of January 12, to a large and appreciative audience. The recognition accorded his artistry on that occasion, will add interest to announcement of his decision to remain in this vicinity for the early spring months.

He will receive pupils in the Gustlin Music Arts studio on North Sycamore street where classes will be conducted. At the same time Mr. Zam plans to devote a certain amount of his time to literary work including not only studies of the composers of earlier eras, but a number of German translations. He is perfecting some of his own piano compositions as well, in addition to preparing for future concert programs.

PIANO FOR CHURCH

Brea, Feb. 9.—Following a meeting of the board of the Church of the Nazarene, it was announced by the chairman, the Rev. Joseph Gray, that a piano will be purchased for use in the church auditorium, replacing a piano which has been in use there for many years.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG — News Behind the News —

WASHINGTON By Paul Mallon

ECONOMY

This public breast-beating in Congress for economy is just the same old hokey in a louder tone of voice. Real economy is yet a long way off.

The recent contest over abolishing three small assay offices shows the underlying situation. A senate committee tried to cut out the appropriations for these government gold shops at Carson City, Nev., Helena, Mont., and Boise, Idaho. Instantly the senators from those states leaped to their feet. A leader among them was Borah. They screamed so loud the appropriation was restored.

Their argument was that these small assay offices are a helpful government service and give employment. So does everything else the government is doing now. The superfluous services have been swept away long ago, they say.

The same argument can be more or less effectively made against retrenchment in every item of government expenditure. It is being made daily in both houses.

It is a cinch there can be no economies until congressmen are ready to give up things in their own districts. That time will probably come when we all are angels.

VETERANS

The demand for economies has also failed to weaken resistance against cutting veterans' expenditures.

The veterans' economy committee has been in a storm cellar for months. They privately planned to hold off their report until too late for this session of congress to do anything. Now they have decided they may not report at all. Instead of cutting existing veterans' allowances, the house actually added $18,000,000 to the independent offices bill to care for non-service connected disabilities.

You never hear much about that. The boys have a way of sliding those things through without a record vote or too much debate. That is what happened this time.

CHECK

No one would lift an eyebrow here if Mr. Roosevelt fell miles short of his ambitious economy program.

He seems to be ardent enough about it, but he is faced with almost insurmountable underlying obstacles. Already friends are going to him confidentially warning him he must not try to abolish this bureau and that one.

An easy way out has already been discovered in congress, probably unintentionally. They have found they cannot delegate legislative authority to break constitutional obligations. It would be unconstitutional. In other words, he can only economize without changing existing law materially.

That can mean only one thing—no 25 per cent or even 15 per cent reduction below existing expenditures.

RELIEF

The Wagner relief bill will probably be passed instead of the La Follette-Costigan bill.

It takes most of the relief loan restrictions off the R. F. C. The La Follette-Costigan bill authorizes $50,000,000 directly to states outside the jurisdiction of the R. F. C. Democrats generally like the Wagner bill best, and conservatives on both sides will be for it.

ALLOTMENT

The secretary of the farm board has quit and joined the grain trade lobby.

That will give you an idea of the intensive effort being made to block the Roosevelt allotment bill. The secretary, Edgar Markham, did not get along with the board and was anxious to make the change. For the past two months he and board members have been at odds.

His inside knowledge in the farm situation will be of immense benefit to the lobby.

FARLEY

Elimination of all airmail appropriations by the senate was a little democratic plot to keep Postmaster General Brown from awarding contracts for next year. That was the only thought involved.

The appropriations will not be needed until July 1. Before that time the new postmaster general, Farley, will make the awards in his own way. Interested parties have been assured that the democrats do not intend to wreck the airmail service. If any cuts are made at all, they will be inconsequential.

It looks very much as if Warm Springs had a hand in the airmail appropriations vote. Democratic Floor Leader Robinson opposed the McKellar move to cut the appropriations. When he lost he went out into the cloakroom to a telephone. When he came back, he moved the whole appropriation he stricken out. Senators assumed he had talked with Farley, and perhaps Mr. Roosevelt himself.

ARMY

Chief of Staff Douglas MacArthur has some high democratic connections. They have quietly assured his friends he will be permitted to serve out his four-year term in command of the army. It is up next year.

After that Major General Drum, now deputy of staff, may get the job.

NOTES

The lieutenant governor of a southern state arose after listening to a senate economy debate and said: "Those fellows down there do not have the slightest idea of the demand out in the country for real economy."

Although unmentioned so far, Frederick H. Prince of Boston is in line to get an ambassadorship. . . . A new play, "On Both Your Knees," seriously attacking the governmental situation, will open here about March 4. . . . One of the scenes is laid in a congressional appropriations committee.

The play is by Maxwell Anderson and will be produced in the Theater Guild, which will announce its intentions shortly. . . . Mr. Roosevelt is adapting himself to the newspaper business. . . . He gave out his Tennessee River valley improvement plan for release in afternoon papers because their representatives complained he had been giving out all his news to the morning papers.

NEW YORK By James McMullan

CABINET

Those in counsel here with the president-elect say that the West is determined on one of its own for agriculture. Any man from the East would stir deep resentment. It is probable that this will lead Mr. Roosevelt to take Henry Wallace.

Governor Derr of Utah stands so high with F. D. R. that undoubtedly he would like to place the governor in the cabinet.

Strong agitation in Georgia in behalf of Senator Cohen is not likely to carry him into a cabinet chair. His candidacy has opposition that is equally strong.

Senator Swanson is understood to have Governor Byrd's backing for a cabinet seat. It is a remote event as matters now stand.

Bainbridge Colby's place in the new administration will most probably be wholly external.

Traylor of Chicago might well have been slated for a cabinet seat had the Illinois smash been avoided. He has good company in that situation.

War and navy are to be combined only in the imagination of those unknown. Insiders find no basis for the story.

Diplomatic appointments are not likely to be announced in the immediate future. Men most closely in touch with the situation say these posts have not yet been thought out.

Bruce Kramer, national committeeman from Montana, is expected to succeed Senator Walsh. Kramer has leased an apartment at the Mayflower.

ACCOUNTING

The stock exchange campaign for better accounting methods by listed corporations is wise optimism. The heads figure that congress is going to legislate in any case. If the legislation can be directed at the corporation instead of at the exchange it will be all to the good.

The tone of the exchange's communications to corporations is amusingly different from its attitude toward its own members. To the corporation is says, "Please won't you cooperate?" To its members it says, "Do what we tell you—or else."

There is real talk on the inside of a list of accountants officially approved by the stock exchange. Accounting standards do vary widely. But a strong argument against such a list is the possibility that accounting firms omitted might seek legal redress.

EARNINGS

A number of dividend cuts by important corporations are still to come. In this connection a comparison of actual or estimated 1932 earnings with current dividend requirements of leading corporations is given below. "Plus" means earnings well in excess of dividend requirements. "Equal" means they are about the same. "Minus" means earnings less than current dividends.

RAILS. Plus—Atchafalpa (pid), Chesapeake & Ohio, Norfolk & Western, Union Pacific. Equal—Reading. Most of the other railroads have discontinued dividends on stock.

UTILITIES. Plus—Consolidated Gas, Public Service of N. J., United Gas Improvement. Equal—United Corporation, Columbia Gas & Electric. Minus—American Telephone.

FOODS. Plus—Hershey (more than triple), General Foods, Standard Brands, Wrigley. Equal—Borden. Minus—National Biscuit.

STORES. Plus—First National

(double). Minus—Woolworth, Penney. OTHER COMPANIES. Plus—Eastman, Drug, Gillette (double). Equal—General Electric. Minus—Allied Chemical, American Can, Corn Products, DuPont, Procter & Gamble, Westinghouse.

All of the leading tobacco companies except General Cigar are on the plus side. On the other hand, National Steel and Nash Motors are the only important representatives of their industries earning more than they pay.

MOTORS

The entire motor industry—except for Ford—lost about fifty million dollars in 1932. Inside estimates indicate that Ford alone lost more than that.

Talk that banks or rival automobile companies are aiming to take over Ford gets a big laugh in Wall street. Bankers say they can see no point in acquiring a business which is dropping more than fifty millions a year.

Rival manufacturers claim that the Ford plant is so out of date mechanically it would be of no use to them, and ascribe a part of Ford's losses to this factor. They also point out that they have more plants than they know what to do with now.

NEW MARKET OPENS FRIDAY ON NORTH MAIN

A new Santa Ana market, the Packard Super Market at Twelfth and Main streets, will open its doors for business tomorrow morning for the first time following extensive remodeling and preparation, it was announced today.

All leases in the building, which are for terms of five years, were handled by the Ray Goodcell Realty company.

New and modern fixtures, said to be different from any in the city, have been installed in the new food market. In the meat department, which is operated by J. R. Newman, Santa Ana butcher, the latest porcelain freezer type meat cases have been installed. The cases have special regulating units which keep the meat in the cases in the proper condition at all times.

A feature of the market is the vermin-proof doors, the first to be installed in Orange county, and which have received the strong approval of the health department, it is reported.

The market building is 50 by 150 feet in size, and a large parking lot is located north of the building.

Elmer Schultz, who has had 12 years' experience in the grocery store business, will be in charge of the grocery department for the Piggly Wiggly grocery store in the market. Ample room for leisurely shopping has been provided in the market.

L. J. Boling will operate the vegetable market.

HOOVER PACKED AND READY TO MOVE MARCH 4

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(UP)—The old mansion at 1600 Pennsylvania avenue is ready for the new tenant who is going to move in on March 4.

The present tenant, Herbert Hoover, has finished most of his packing. He is living figuratively from his suitcase. He is ready to move out as soon as President-elect Roosevelt moves in.

The White House is taking on the stiff, formal appearance of a vacant furnished apartment. Mrs. Hoover has packed her pictures, her vases and all the bric-a-brac that turn a house into a home.

Basement hallways are lined with packing cases. An army carpenter shatters the silence, nailing together more cases. When all the Hoover property—about 25 tons of it—is assembled, it will be shipped to Palo Alto, Calif., on the army transport Henderson.

Mrs. Hoover plans to take a train to Palo Alto. Mr. Hoover will board a liner and sail for Panama to do some fishing. His confidential secretary, Lawrence Richey, will go along, as will several members of his cabinet. Secretary of the Treasury Mills has been invited, but says ruefully that he doesn't like to fish.

No hint has been forthcoming of what business Mr. Hoover may enter. The White House has denied he will succeed his friend, Secretary of Interior Wilbur, as president of Stanford university. Another denial says President Hoover does not intend to write a book.

His four secretaries are ready for private life. Richey has rented an office here. He may act as Mr. Hoover's unofficial political lookout in Washington.

Theodore Joslin, press relations secretary, says he has found a new job, that would "surprise" his newsmen friends if they knew what it was. He says his new position is not connected with the press.

Secretary Walter Newton, who handles political matters, probably will resume practice of law in Minnesota.

Secretary French Strother, who helped the president write his speeches, isn't worried about his future. He has found writing a lucrative occupation for years. He expects to settle in New York.

Baptist Conference Leader Training School Opens

DR. J. HUDSON BALLARD WILL SPEAK TONIGHT

PAUL PERIGORD TO SPEAK FOR TEACHER GROUP

Three denominations were represented by registrants at the Santa Ana valley Baptist conference, school of leadership training, opened last night at the Fullerton Baptist church, following an all-day missionary conference.

The sessions last night were conducted by the teachers, who will continue in their courses for the five-day school. These sessions will be supplemented by an open assembly, where outstanding speakers will address the school and guests at 7:50 o'clock each evening.

School will continue tonight and Friday night, and Thursday and Friday nights next week.

At the missionary conference yesterday, the Rev. William G. Evans, missionary to Burma, India, talked at the morning and evening sessions on India. In the evening, on his subject of "God's Power Against Gandhi's Weakness," the speaker cited instances of care, by mission workers, especially at the leprosy colony, and declared that the work of Christ in such countries in showing care for the needy in individual work, and in regeneration of hearts of men, is a work that is not and cannot be appreciated by any other leader or his workers, including Gandhi.

At the banquet of women at noon, over which Mrs. Warren Brakeman of Santa Ana presided, Miss Allene Bryan brought the message to 175 representatives of the Santa Ana valley conference. She gave instances in the lives of women in foreign lands that show how the introduction of the Christian religion has tended to develop character that serves others.

Mrs. Harry E. Owens of Santa Ana introduced the speaker.

The Men's Brotherhood had a dinner meeting at 6 p. m. Both banquets were served by women of the Methodist church, at the church.

Other speakers at the missionary conference were W. E. Woodbury, Evangelist Harry O. Anderson, Otto S. Russell and Mrs. C. L. Custer. A. M. Robinson, moderator of the district, presided.

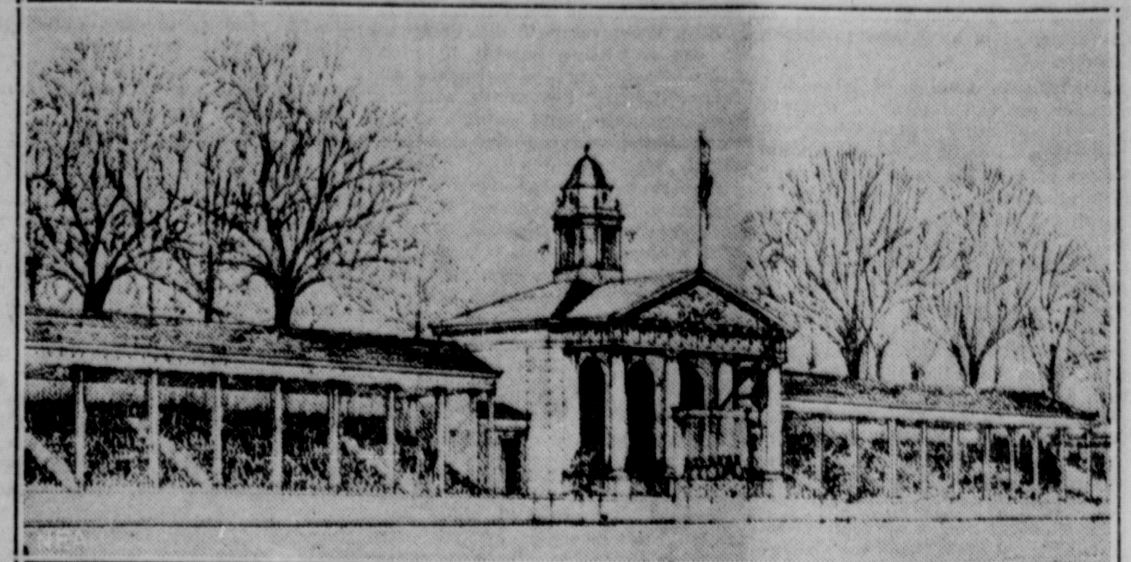

Dr. J. Hudson Ballard, department of religion at Occidental college, a teacher at the school these five days, will address the assembly tonight at 7:50. The Rev. Dr. Nains of Whittier church will talk at a special open session for young people at 7:50 Friday night.

Registration for classes is open to all, and the fee is nominal. The open assemblies are free to the public.

Towns represented last night were Santa Ana, Anaheim, Huntington Beach, Fullerton, Whittier, Montebello, Garden Grove, Downey, Orange, Rivera, Brea and La Habra. Denominations represented were Baptist, Nazarene and Methodist. Some registered as non-denominational.

INAUGURAL COURT OF HONOR

SANTA ANA WOMAN RECALLS EVENTS WHEN SHE ATTENDED LINCOLN-DOUGLAS DEBATE

BY VIRGINIA FRITCHER

Significant to all as the birthday of that beloved national character, Abraham Lincoln, next Sunday, February 12, holds deeper meaning for Mrs. C. F. Bennett, 82, of Tustin avenue, who was in the audience for one of the famous Lincoln-Douglas debates in 1858. To Mrs. Bennett, the day marks the anniversary of a very human man, of whose personality she has her own childhood impressions to intensify appreciation of his life and accomplishments.

The fact that Mrs. Bennett lived in Illinois from her seventh birthday on, (having been born in Connecticut in 1851) and was a youthful bystander at various political happenings of Lincoln's era, heightens her interest in his triumphs. In retrospect, she finds that many incidents glimpsed as a child, were representative of the turbulent conditions against which Lincoln was working.

In the same day, Mrs. Bennett heard him in two addresses. The first, which he gave in the morning at a city park platform in an Illinois town, so impressed her, that she walked two miles to hear him debate with Douglas in the afternoon. She had been one of the first to arrive at the park for the morning address. She notes as indicative of Lincoln's warm personality, the manner in which he greeted an old Indian chief who arrived to sit in the audience, but was escorted to a platform seat by Lincoln. The applause of the crowd was won by this action, she said. Years before, the Indian had won the protection of the state of Illinois by giving warning of his own tribe's plan of attack.

Hears Lincoln Belittled.

Douglas was first speaker in the afternoon debate. Given description by Mrs. Bennett, he was a "fine looking man, whose brilliant oration included words filled with respect for Mr. Lincoln." Until Lincoln arose to give his address, she had believed that he must be the unscrupulous man that Douglas had pictured him. But with Lincoln's first words, she felt intuitively that his opponent's accusations could not be true. Of this moment, Mrs. Bennett says, "Child that I was, I looked and knew that a great man was before me." She recalls that Lincoln opened his talk with a few humorous remarks, glanced significantly at Mr. Douglas, and then could say nothing until the crowd's cheering had quieted.

Being present at the debate marked Mrs. Bennett's second participation in political doings, according to her childhood memories. She recalls that the American flag held its first significance for her two years before the debate, on a certain day in 1856, when drums were beating and a body of men marched by with colors unfurled. She and her brother fell in with the parade of the passing parade, and marched, the little girl with her sunbonnet half off her head. It was in the fall of this year that the campaign for presidential election was carried on by Buchanan and Fremont.

She remembers hearing a great deal of the inauguration of Buchanan as president of the United States; of the Supreme court's decision on the Dred Scott case, and

KNOX, STOUT, SEIERSSEN FORM $250,000 FIRM

Formation of a Santa Ana home-owned $250,000 corporation, with a paid-in capital amounting to $225,000, to hold, create and develop enterprises, was completed today.

The new corporation, known as the Knox, Stout and Seierssen corporation, has merged business and real estate interests in a new project which will be started immediately. John Knox is president of the corporation, J. H. Stout is secretary-treasurer and Paul F. Seierssen is vice president and manager.

Through a merger of local real estate, including the building built by Knox and Stout at 420 East Fourth street, formerly occupied by George Dunton, and business interests of Seierssen, proprietor of the Seierssen Supply company, formerly Hill and Son, the corporation expansion program was developed.

The corporation now owns and controls the building at 420 East Fourth street, which will be opened as a hardware supply store, the Seierssen Supply company store at 215 East Fourth street and has acquired the Mail Hardware company store at 208 East Fourth street. In addition, the corporation has a store in Glendale.

The Mail company store will be closed and the stock moved to the Seierssen store and to the other location. The building at 420 East Fourth will be headquarters for the organization. A new lease was signed today for the Seierssen store, which will be kept in operation. The purchase of other stores is contemplated.

The merger was accomplished to convert real estate into merchandise, which is planned to be sold at low prices. The store at 420 East Fourth will be used for plumbing, sheet metal and the heavier types of goods handled by the company.

The deal included no outside stockholders, it was announced.

HEADS FIRM

John Knox, below, former mayor, is head of a newly organized $250,000 corporation dealing in hardware and real estate.

COMMITTEE TO CHECK ON NEW MILL IS NAMED

A special committee of three bankers, Alex Brownridge, Frank Was and Ed McFadden, was appointed at a special meeting yesterday, of the chamber of commerce board of directors, to investigate the deal proposed by George Matzen, former woolen goods manufacturer of Seattle, to open the woolen mills plant on Washington avenue at the Santa Fe tracks.

Following considerable discussion by the directors, a motion was adopted appointing the committee to formulate a report which, after having been heard by the directors, will govern their actions in lending support to the move to open the factory and afford employment to at least 25 persons.

J. S. Smart, chairman of the Citizens' Emergency Employment committee, suggested that those who are employed at the factory could be paid $3 a day, half of which would be in scrip which could be redeemed at the end of six months if the venture proved a success.

Matzen has informed directors that he is ready to open the plant if enough capital can be guaranteed him for the payroll until money from goods sold starts coming in.

Theater Employees Are Guests at Surprise Birthday Party

Mrs. Martha Kirkpatrick, 132 West Pine street, entertained recently in honor of her son, Willie Kirkpatrick, who observed his twentieth birthday anniversary. The affair was planned as a surprise and guests were employees of the Broadway and West Coast theaters and close friends of the honor guest.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick used a decorative scheme suggestive of early spring in the appointments of yellow and green. The birthday cake which was served with the buffet supper, was decorated in these colors. Guests arrived shortly after midnight and several enjoyable hours were spent in playing games. Music was furnished by W. L. Henderson and Avery Johnson who played several piano solos.

Present other than the hostess, Mrs. Kirkpatrick, were Miss Mary Lyn Wade, Miss Winifred Johnson, Miss Helen Brown and Miss Margaret Forkus, F. C. Clough, Ellsworth Weakley, Eddie Sugen, Maudie Burns, Tommy Jagers, Neil Adams, Ralph Adams and Avery Johnson.

Gay Appointments Used At Lad's Birthday Celebration

The gayest of valentine appointments were used Saturday afternoon by Mrs. John J. Mills, who entertained in her home, 1069 West First street, with a merry party honoring the fifth birthday anniversary of her son, Charles Clyde. Appropriate games played during the afternoon had been planned by the little lad's sister, Martha May, who will observe her eleventh natal day tomorrow. Austin Lester won the prize award offered. Charles was presented with many gifts from the assembled group.

At the refreshment hour, guests were seated around a table covered with a large birthday cake topped with red candles. Tall red tapered, red heart-shaped nut cups and large chocolate hearts at each place were decorations carrying out a pretty valentine theme. Crepe paper streamers were suspended over the table, giving a festive air to the setting. Ice cream and cake were served.

Boys attending with the honored guest, Charles Clyde, were Billie Hagthorn, Lloyd Ammons, Skipper Laester, of Santa Ana, and Austin Lester of Alhambra. Others present were Mrs. A. B. Lester, Mrs. Marcus Laester, Mrs. Albert Ammons, Mrs. J. F. Mills, grandmother of the birthday celebrant, and the hostess, Mrs. John J. Mills.

Month at Country Club To Be Enlivened by Various Events

Friday night is being anticipated by Santa Ana Country club members as bringing one of the general bridge parties which are proving one of the most popular forms of club hospitality for the year. While tables are formed for auction for all who prefer that form of bridge, the greater number of guests at these evening affairs for both men and women seem to prefer contract, and enthusiasm runs high as the evening advances and scores mount. Friday night's party will begin promptly at 8 o'clock, after guests have been greeted by their hosts for the evening. Mr. and Mrs. William Foote, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Langley and Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Talbert. Bridge awards and light refreshments at the close of play will be among enjoyable features.

Later in the month will come other social events for club members, including a bridge tea for feminine guests on Friday afternoon, February 17, when play will begin promptly at 2 o'clock, and a special luncheon will be served in advance for those who wish to make reservations for the more extended hospitality. Tea hostesses will be Mrs. L. M. Banks, Mrs. George Briggs and Mrs. R. Foster Lamm. The monthly dance will be held on the final Friday in the month, February 24, when members again will dance to the delightful strains of the Louise Shirley orchestra. Dr. and Mrs. Will A. Flood, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cogan and Mr. and Mrs. Nat Neff have accepted host responsibilities for the evening, whose festivities will begin at 9:30 o'clock.

Colorful Party Scene Is Reminiscent of European Cafes

As the time draws near for the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fager for their future home in Chicago, Mrs. Fager, the former Miss Margaret White of this city, finds herself the center of a whirl of hospitality designed by her friends to bring together little intimate groups in her honor as a bride of recent date.

The latest of these friendly affairs was that at which Dr. Peryl Magill and Miss Julia Magill entertained yesterday. They received their guests in the Mad Hatter cafe, Laguna Beach, establishing an atmosphere that was decidedly reminiscent of little European cafes whose Bohemian charm had appealed to them and their honoree, when they used to meet frequently in Europe.

The luncheon table reserved at the Mad Hatter was especially effective in that artistic setting, because of its central basket of flowers, whose graceful arrangement had been contrived by Miss Louise Tubbs. Places were indicated for the sister hostesses, Miss Julia and Dr. Peryl Magill, and their honoree, Mrs. Fager, together with the latter's mother, Mrs. B. F. White, Mrs. Emrys D. White, Mrs. Volney Tubbs, Miss Louise Tubbs and Mrs. Fred Rowland.

Luncheon at an end, the party scene was transferred to Hotel Laguna, where tables were awaiting for bridge. Miss Tubbs and Mrs. Rowland made first and second high scores, and were rewarded with prizes very much in keeping with the artistic theme of the afternoon. At the same time a gaily wrapped box was presented as guest prize to Mrs. Fager, who to her very real amazement, discovered the box filled with smaller packages, each containing dainty guest towels for use in her new home, shower gifts from the close friends so happily assembled.

Santa Ana Women Hear Noted German Speak In Los Angeles

Speaking neither "as a German" nor "to Americans," but as "a world citizen," Dr. Otto Vollbehr of Germany, whose book collection, estimated at one million and one-half dollars in value, now reposes at the Congressional library in Washington, D. C., addressed members of the Los Angeles chapter of the League of Western Writers in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Carl Sumner Knopf, Los Angeles, Sunday afternoon. Attending from this city were Miss Beulah May and Miss Marjorie Lusk, members, and Mrs. Burr Shafer, a guest. The informal lecture-tea was arranged in order that League members might meet Dr. and Mrs. Vollbehr. In his talk Dr. Vollbehr argued that in world brotherhood lay the remedy for present world conditions.

At the close of the brief address members of the League and guests were invited to the second floor of the home to examine Dr. Knopf's rare collection of Babylonian tablets, a field in which he is an authority. Several groups of piano selections, played by Miss Stewart of the U. S. C. School of Music, rounded out the program, tea later being served the half hundred assembled.

On the Friday night previous Miss Lusk and Miss May, accompanied by Leonard Baker, attended a dinner at the LaFayette hotel, Long Beach, on the occasion of the installation of a Long Beach chapter into the League of Western Writers. Lewis Dodge, novelist, was the speaker.

Year's Activities for Auxiliary Begin With Delightful Affair

Beginning their year's activities with an interesting session during which it was decided to create a loan fund for worthy medical students, members of the Women's Auxiliary of Orange County Medical association met Tuesday afternoon as guests of Mrs. F. L. Chapline, South Glassell street, Orange.

Dr. W. W. Roblee of Riverside, speaker for the afternoon, brought an enlightening discussion on "What a Doctor's Wife Should Know of Her Husband's Business." He mentioned the necessity of keeping alert in the rapid advancement of medicine, maintaining professional secrecy, and being a partner in the doctor's work of arranging a budget.

The afternoon marked the first occasion that new officers had presided since installation. They are Mrs. C. S. O'Toole, of Anaheim, president; Mrs. Hiram Curry, president-elect; Mrs. F. L. Chapline, first vice-president; Mrs. Newell L. O'Toole, secretary; Mrs. R. C. Green, treasurer.

In creating the new loan fund, the auxiliary drew on its treasury. This initial sum was increased by personal contributions. Mrs. Herbert Johnston of Anaheim, offered her home for a musical tea to be held in May for the benefit of the fund. By founding the student fund, the auxiliary hopes to stimulate interest in the cause throughout the state.

Guests introduced were: Mrs. R. A. Cushman, now of Talmage, one of the founders of the auxiliary; Mrs. A. H. Domann, Mrs. D. C. Pixley and Mrs. Fletcher of Orange; and Mrs. Roblee of Riverside.

The meeting was brought to a close by a delightful tea hour, presided over by a group assisting Mrs. Chapline, Mrs. K. H. Sutherland, Mrs. E. J. Steen, Mrs. E. L. Russell and Mrs. W. S. Wallace. The table was beautifully decorated in red and white, lighted with tall tapers and centered with red poppies. Individual cakes mounted with tiny American flags were included in the dainty menu, and were in keeping with a patriotic motif.

Mrs. Dexter Ball's home in Santa Ana will be the setting for the March meeting. The April affair will be a luncheon at Santa Ana Country club, honoring Mrs. F. E. Coulter, of Santa Ana, state president.

Afternoon Party for Mayflower Club Is Pretty Affair

Mrs. K. W. Bell and Mrs. Archie Perkins joined in entertaining Mayflower club members Tuesday afternoon in the former's home, 1401 North Ross street. Cards and sewing were the informal pastimes of the group during the meeting.

Mrs. A. C. Wiebe conducted a short business session. Hostesses for the next affair will be Mrs. Robert Smith and Mrs. J. W. Parkinson in the Smith home, 802 East Sixth street, it was announced.

At the close of the afternoon, Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Perkins served an appetizing salad course, using a clever valentine motif in all appointments.

Those sharing the enjoyable occasion with Mrs. Bell and her young son, Stanley, and Mrs. Perkins, co-hostesses, were Mrs. Edward Cochems and little granddaughter, Audrey Harrell; Mrs. W. M. Ford, Mrs. E. E. Frisby, Mrs. William Lawrence, Mrs. J. O. Zabel, Mrs. A. C. Wiebe, Mrs. H. W. Helmer, Mrs. M. R. Kellogg, Mrs. R. E. Smith, Mrs. V. C. Shidler and daughter, Jacqueline; Mrs. J. W. Parkinson and Mrs. J. H. Patison.

Bridge Players Enjoy Dinner Hospitality In Westover Home

Last night's meeting of a little dinner-bridge club group with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Westover, 1527 East Fourth street, was enlivened by the attendance of Mr. and Mrs. L. Allen Wallace, members ever since the club's formation, but who are now living in Glendale and so unable to attend regularly.

Mrs. Westover paid due deference to the valentine season in planning her dinner appointments and menus, lighting the tables with red dinner candles, and using gay little valentines for place and tally cards.

Covers were placed for the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Westover, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace of Glendale, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Nisson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Newcomb Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Orlyn B. Robertson and Mr. and Mrs. Loyal King.

In the after-dinner diversion of bridge, Mr. and Mrs. Nisson made the highest score and received the prize bestowed by the hosts.

The dried fruit is used in this menu for its natural IRON content: these are "tonic" fruits, the best way to get your iron tonic.

Is the cuticle around your nails ragged? Are your hands chapped and discolored red? Both can be cured by the use of a combination of beef and mutton suet. Take a little of both, place in a double boiler and melt over hot water. Strain off the clear fat, add a teaspoonful of glycerine and a few drops of benzoin (if conveniently at hand). Beat until cold and like a heavy cleansing cream. Rub around nails at night and into the skin of hands and arms.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Vanilla Ice Cream
(For mechanical refrigerator)
8 egg yolks
2 tablespoonsful flour (level)
1 1/2 cups sugar
1/4 cup milk to mix eggs
2 cups scalded milk
6 egg whites beaten stiff
1 1/2 cups whipping cream
3 teaspoons vanilla.

This recipe makes one large and one small pan full of delicious ice cream. Halve the recipe if smaller quantities are wanted. May be frozen successfully by packing a mould in crushed ice and rock salt for five hours.

While the two cups of milk are heating in a double boiler, put the egg yolks, sugar, flour and quarter-cup of milk into a bowl and whip until smoothly mixed. Pour into the hot milk and stir constantly until the custard coats the spoon (about 12 minutes). Chill well. If the custard can stand over night the cream seems smoother.

For the final mixing, whip the egg whites very stiff and whip through the custard, then the whipped cream and last, the vanilla. Place in pans and freeze without stirring.

Hot Butterscotch Dressing
Take 1/2 cup white sugar,
1 cup brown sugar, 2 tablespoons butter, 1/2 cup water.
Cook until it spins a thread.
Cook until it spins a thread.
Add 1/2 cup coffee cream,
boil up and cook exactly one minute over a brisk fire. Pour hot over vanilla ice cream, use chopped nuts for top.

There are 20 small servings in the full recipe, each worth 130 energy calories. And in the two tablespoonsful of butterscotch dressing allowed for each portion there are 100 energy calories. ... 280 in all.

Villa Park Association Gets $21,593 For Fruit

276,053 BOXES SENT EAST IN PAST SEASON

ORANGE, Feb. 9.—The annual meeting of the Villa Park Orchard association was held at the packing plant this morning. The annual report was presented by H. D. Nichols, secretary and manager.

Nichols said that shipments for 1934 totaled 276,053 packed boxes of all varieties and returned to the association $521,593.27, with a net to the growers of $349,078.15—an average of $1.26 per packed box and 74 cents per field box. This includes the operating refunds and revolving fund returns.

"The pack for the year ran only 62.29 per cent Sunkist as compared with 75.83 per cent in the Sunkist grade the year previous," Nichols said. "The average size of our fruit for the season was 241 oranges to the packed box."

Our order business held up exceedingly well throughout the season and was an important factor in the returns which we were able to realize during this trying season.

"Through a reduction in the costs of materials, salaries and wages, together with the elimination of expense wherever possible, the cost of packing was reduced approximately 15 per cent as compared with the preceding year. Further reductions have already been made looking forward to lowering the costs for the season ahead."

"A total amount of $127,543.66 was refunded for the year."

"The pre-cooling plan, in addition to making it possible to better handle our fruit after being packed and getting the crop off the trees earlier at the close of the season, also showed a saving in cost of 7.44 cents per box. This is approximately two and one-half cents more than the revolving fund of five cents per box which is retained to cover the original cost of the plant."

"Our present system of pooling into four periods worked out very satisfactorily and there was practically no confusion at all in the order of picking."

"During the past season there were two periods which gave very definite evidence of improved market conditions under regulated shipment control. The first was in July, when the much talked of pro rate was in effect and the second was at the close of the season, when practically all shipments were under control of the exchange. These two periods show beyond doubt that proper regulation of the supply can and will make a better return to the producer. Even in times like these we may well recall the law of supply and demand."

"Naturally in years of surplus crop such as 1932 the low grades and undesirable fruit should be eliminated. Exchange shippers did eliminate, by dumping, a considerable percentage of this class of fruit last season in its effort to salvage as much as possible from the better grades of a surplus supply on a low demand market."

"An important item in costs between the producer and consumer is that of transportation. We are paying today approximately two-thirds more per car load in freight than was paid before the war. This question is receiving the consideration of various shipping organizations at this time."

We need co-operation among co-operators.

DR. KNOPF ENDS SERIES OF SIX TALKS ON BIBLE

ORANGE, Feb. 9.—Closing a series of talks in which he has shown the analogous conditions between present times and those existing in Palestine about 400 B. C., Dr. Carl Sumner Knopf, dean of Biblical literature at the University of Southern California, spoke to a large audience in the Epworth hall of the First Methodist church last night.

Dr. Knopf based his final address on "The Bible in the Business World" using the writings of Nehemiah as the foundation for the discussion. Other books which have been used similarly are Deuteronomy, Hosea and Micah.

Nehemiah is an example of the average business man, said Dr. Knopf, and he was in reality an efficiency expert. He proved that business ability can be consecrated to the service of the kingdom as well as to material ends. The book is really a collection of the most authentic memoirs in existence and are better attested than Caesar's commentaries, the speaker declared.

The speaker told the life of Nehemiah as told by the court of the Persian king, Artaxerxes I, and how Nehemiah, who was a Jewish captive, used the keenest sort of business judgment in preparing to go to Jerusalem to restore the temple and to rebuild the walls of the city.

Mrs. A. Haven Smith, accompanied by Mrs. R. M. Warren, gave two vocal solos, and Harold Gilton sang "The Open Road" and "Sittin' Thinkin'". The pastor of the church, the Rev. L. V. Lucas, presided and thanked Mrs. Smith for preparing the musical programs and Mrs. J. Russell Kenyon for taking charge of the dinners which have preceded the meetings for the past six weeks.

ORANGE, Feb. 9.—Holding a luncheon preceding their regular meeting Wednesday afternoon in Smith and Grote hall, members of Orange Royal Neighbors complimented Mrs. Lenora Fletcher of Long Beach, district deputy. She was presented with a large cake in observance of her birthday anniversary this month.

More than 40 members and guests were present for the luncheon, served at decorated tables by a committee composed of Mesdames Lillian Vietsman, Mabel Lee, Rebecca Baier and Hart Pennington. Appointments were suggestive of Valentine's day, and included bouquets of purple sage.

During the business session, in charge of Mrs. Pennington, oracles, plans were made for a benefit card party to be held on the evening of February 22 in Smith and Grote hall. Mrs. Sadie Hangar and Mrs. Anna Slater were named general chairman and refreshment chairman for the affair.

Mrs. Gladys Wetherbee was initiated as a new member.

THE TINYMIES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

The old sky pilot swung around and landed safely on the ground. The Tinies rushed to meet him and wee Scouty cried, "Hello!" "The hunter says there's naught to fear, so you are very welcome here. Please tell us why you fly around and where you're going to go."

The man just smiled and said, "Well, son, I find that flying's heaps of fun. I spend my life patrolling all around the open air. It is my job to sail on high and watch all things up in the sky. You'd be surprised at sights I see, while sailing here and there."

"I rule the sun! I rule the rain! And what I say is not in vain. I often order good old Sol to hide behind a cloud."

"If rain is needed down below,

I shout to dark clouds, "Let it go!" And then the rain comes pouring down. No wonder I feel proud."

"Well, make the sun come out right now," said Duncy. "Please, sir, show us how you do some of the thrilling things that you have told about."

It was no sooner said than done. "Why, look!" cried Windy. "There's the sun. A great, big black cloud moved away to let the sun come out."

Then Coppy sighed and said, "Oh, my! I'd like to travel through the sky. Gee, could we use your big balloon for just a little while?"

"Sure! That's the very thing to do! 'Twill carry everyone of you. Just grab a hold and off you'll go," the man said, with a smile.

"The big balloon is trained, you see, and it will float right back to me. Release it when it's taken you to where you want to go."

And so the Tinies cried, "Good-by," and shortly sailed off in the sky. Soon Duncy said, "Where are we bound? That's what I'd like to know!"

Four Wells At H. B. Expected To Tap Ocean Pool

NEW PROJECTS STARTED SOON BY OPERATORS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 9.—Martin Dietrich and associates, among whom are Jack and Bob McKoon, who were active in early oil development here, have taken over a well on Twentieth street in the first block from the ocean, between Ocean and Walnut avenues, and will deepen and redrill the hole. It is reported that the hole will be put out under the tide-lands.

"Red" Fraser and associates, local and Long Beach capitalists, have taken a lease on 40 feet adjoining the McKoon lease and will erect a derrick at once. They will whipstock out under the ocean with a new hole, it is said.

The H. B. Oil company has taken over a well from the Crude Oil company between Sixteenth and Fifteenth streets. John H. Marion, city councilman, is directing this work as president of the company. A crew of men is already at work on this well, installing heavy machinery. It is reported the hole will be drilled to a point under the tide-lands.

Long Beach capitalists have taken over the Klesau lease on the Smith well in the middle of the block between Olive and Walnut on Nineteenth street. They will head for a spot under the beach, it is claimed.

In the meantime the major oil companies and one company in particular are getting active in an effort to prevent whiststocking or sidetracking of oil wells. Mayor Elson G. Conrad has received from the secretary of the Texas Railroad commission, a copy of the Texas law about keeping oil wells perpendicular. The law prevents a deviation of over three degrees.

The deviation would keep a well 5000 feet deep under a pair of town lots, if it should become a law in California. Operators who want to search for oil where it is known to be, are rushing their drilling and leasing plans in order to beat the efforts of the interests which oppose slanting holes.

The new drilling activity was brought about by the bringing in of a big oil and gas well at Twentieth and Walnut streets recently. This well is producing from a point out in the ocean.

THIS WOMAN LOST 35 LBS. OF FAT

Miss M. Katner of Brooklyn, N.Y., writes: "Have used Kruschen for the past 4 months and have not only lost 35 pounds but feel so much better in every way. Even for people who don't care to reduce, Kruschen is wonderful to keep the system healthy. I tried a nurse who knew for five years to many things but only Kruschen answered all purposes." (May 12, 1932).

To lose fat SAFELY and HARMLESSLY, take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—don't miss a morning—a bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle—but don't take chances—be sure it's Kruschen—your health comes first—get it at Kelley Drug, Ltd., or any drug store in America. Laboratory Fish Star In New Movie

NEWPORT BEACH, Feb. 9.—Moving pictures of the remarkable species of marine animal life available at the marine laboratory of the California Institute of Technology at Corona del Mar are being taken by representatives of Universal pictures for educational purposes, to be shown throughout the world.

This was made known by Prof. G. E. McGintie, who is in charge of Cal-Tech's marine laboratory here, in answer to a question asked of him at the weekly luncheon meeting yesterday of the Newport Harbor Service club at the American Legion clubhouse.

Prof. McGintie at a recent meeting of the club showed slides of marine animal life, which he described from the scientific and popular viewpoints, and surprised his hearers when he told of the exceedingly numerous varieties of fish and other marine life which exists, particularly in the vicinity of Newport Bay.

Mesan Escapes Death When Tractor Falls

COSTA MESA, Feb. 9.—J. W. Lesnick, of West Eighth street, narrowly escaped death Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, when the tractor he was driving turned somersault backwards, pinning him underneath the steering wheel, which broke.

A group of friends and neighbors finally succeeded in digging him out. Excepting for extreme soreness in the chest and back no bad effects were noticed.

The accident occurred on the Nels Swanson place at Eighteenth and Placencia streets. The fact the ground was muddy was the only thing that saved him from death, Lesnick says.

23 DIRECTORS SELECTED FOR L.B. RED CROSS

LAGUNA BEACH, Feb. 9.—Twenty-three directors, to serve for one year, were elected at the monthly meeting of the Laguna Beach auxiliary of the Santa Ana Red Cross chapter Wednesday. They are Thomas A. Hogarth, Mrs. Foster Elliot, Mrs. H. C. Hind and Miss Jane Cooper.

Mrs. Ada E. Purpus was chosen as corresponding secretary. Mrs. G. B. Dunham, chairman of the relief committee, gave a detailed report of her work, acknowledging aid from many sources and lay stress on the services donated by doctors, dentists and nurses among the needy families. Sixty-eight families were cared for during the past month, an increase over December.

Mrs. Dunham said that during the annual roll call drive last fall, workers were confronted by objectors, who said they did not wish to become members because 50 cents of each dollar was sent to the National Red Cross. Less than 425 members were enrolled, making the National Red Cross share a little more than $200. However, Mrs. Dunham said, she has received supplies from national headquarters for use in relief work here totaling $289.35 and she soon will receive an additional supply of flour valued at $73, a grand total in less than a year of $362.35.

A benefit dance will be held at the Cabrillo ballroom Saturday evening, February 18, through the courtesy of the owners, Brown and Correll. Canned goods or a small cash sum will be the admittance fee.

A card party held at the Hotel Laguna Wednesday netted a fine sum for the relief work.

BENEFIT CUTS FOR VETERANS HIT AT BEACH

NEWPORT BEACH, Feb. 9.—If certain cuts in expenditures for the benefits of veterans are put into effect by the federal government, it will only mean that much of the necessary relief for the disabled must be undertaken by local communities, which are already overburdened by taxation.

This was the statement made today by Henry H. Williamson, publicity chairman of Newport Harbor post of the American Legion, following a meeting of the post where this matter was discussed.

Williamson charged that the drive for cutting down veterans' appropriations of various kinds was instituted by the National Economy League, which he asserted was nothing more nor less than a group of "big business" representatives, who did not hesitate to make millions, directly and indirectly, out of the war, and now would deny the dough-boys, many of them destitute and disabled, the mere pittance necessary for them to live upon.

"The Harbor post will let representatives in Senate and Congress know where they stand on this matter and will try to have others throughout the nation unmask the motives of the millionaires and patrioters who have in many instances profited greatly by the war and who now shout so vociferously for 'economy,'" Williamson said.

"One of the things badly needed in this country, and one of the most just things that could possibly happen, is a drive for much higher income taxes on the huge incomes that are still being made, even when millions walk the streets looking for jobs. Some of our multi-millionaires don't know what taxes are here, compared with other countries."

SECURITY FOR ALL

Walter Lippmann, who has been writing recently on "Technocracy," says in his first paper of "Interpretations," a publication recently issued: "Man has invented and organized the power to produce wealth on a scale which allows us to say that the most ancient of human problems—the problem of scarcity—has been solved."

He then goes on to emphasize that while it has not been solved in all parts of the globe, like China and India, where they are under the dominion of scarcity, yet he adds: "But in our Western world, and above all in the United States, this problem is solved. Not only do we know how to produce all the wealth needed for a decent standard of life for everybody, we actually do produce it in great abundance."

He declares that it has taken three centuries to reach the condition stated above. And it has required the development of science and the elimination of feudalism. But after all, he acknowledges it has been accomplished. With that accomplishment achieved, there is almost no voice in the United States that can be heard suggesting a means by which all the people can enjoy the advantages of what has been done.

It is rather remarkable that the complaints which become vocal concerning the situation, are not those of the people who are without to the greatest degree, but are rather from those who have, and who fear that a larger portion of what they have will be taken from them.

One of the first things that professional people, of whatever type, devote their energies to insuring, is the security of position and income. We were in a meeting the other day, where the discussion of a considerable portion of the time of several hundred men turned upon a resolution which would affect the one point of security of a certain group of professional people. We are for this security of all people, and we of course recognize that the professional people of all kinds, whether they be lawyers, doctors, teachers, ministers or politicians are aiming for this security.

But sometimes we feel that if the educated and trained men and women were as insecure as the great mass of wage earners and workers generally, then the wage earners would not continue to be as insecure as they are. If the interest of each were the interest of all, and if the trained men and women, in order to have a higher degree of security, would be compelled to see that all had it, all would have it.

It may reach a condition where that unity of the race is necessary, where a condition will finally be reached that the few cannot enjoy the benefits of plenty without all having sufficient. The ones who are advising and guiding and directing our industrial, economic and political life themselves personally are enjoying the advantages of plenty. And it is difficult for them to think in terms of the people whose personal experiences are alien to them.

They say that the fellow who hunts for trouble always finds it. Not if it's in the ignition system, he doesn't.

FRUITLESS DISCUSSION

The international debt is being used primarily as a political football. It gives our Senators something to become furious over, and William Randolph Hearst something about which to arouse the passions of the people, without getting the people of the nation anything, without changing the status, and accomplishing only two things. First, it is aiding the politicians, possibly, to use it in our own country to get support from the people whose prejudices have been aroused, and, second, it creates on the other side of the Atlantic the most wholesome and genuine ill will and hatred, because of what is being said about these nations.

If it be true that nations can only pay their debts in goods, even 10 per cent of their debts are more goods than the United States would want to take from them just now, and more goods than we would want to have displace American labor. The cry of "Buy American" on the one hand, and "Pay up, Europe" on the other, are as absolutely inconsistent as if the creditors of a man selling meat in Santa Ana would come together and organize the city against the people buying meat of that man, and then insisting that the man should pay them what he owes them.

When a man threatens bankruptcy or gets tightened for money in our community, what is the consequence? Immediately an extraordinary sale is put on, in it is recognized that the only manner in which that man can meet his obligations is to sell his goods, and should his creditors organize to defeat his sale, he could not be blamed if he assumed the attitude that he didn't care whether his creditors were paid or not.

We should work for our people in the United States. In order to do this, we must, as far as possible, buy what they produce. These truths may not be very palatable, but they are the truth nevertheless. And there isn't anything gained by permanently "kidding ourselves," or attempting to "kid" the people.

REFORM, GEORGIA!

Sometime ago, the Governor of New Jersey refused to extradite a man who had escaped from a Georgia chain gang, on the ground that the state of Georgia had a penal system that was so brutal as to be a disgrace to our modern civilization. Now the Governor of the state of Michigan has refused to honor the request of the same state for the extradition of a Negro who escaped from the chain gang, and for the same reason as given by the Governor of New Jersey.

Of course, the officials of the state of Georgia are highly incensed at this treatment by other states. They claim it to be a grave and disgraceful lack of courtesy, and threaten to retaliate upon the states which snub them in this manner.

There is only one way for the State of Georgia to correct the attitude taken by these two governors, and that is to revise its brutal penal laws. Such a penal system as now exists in the state of Georgia is brutally unjust. In these days when the whole theory of punishment for crime and other transgression of law seeks the reform of the offender, Georgia still acts on the principle which obtained when men and women and little children were herded together in dirty prisons because they could not pay their debts. So far as the State of Georgia is concerned, much of the work done in the 18th century by John Howard and Elizabeth Fry, the pioneers in prison reform, has not taught its lesson. Reform, Georgia! There is the remedy for the attitudes of other states.

Dowager Queen Marie of Rumania is reported writing a novel baring the romantic affairs of her son, King Carol. It looks like Carol's about to be dealt a royal flush.

"CIVIC COMPLACENCY" EVERYWHERE

This is a busy period. There are almost innumerable matters before our citizens. Our eyes are fixed on Sacramento, on Washington, on our supervisors, upon our school board, and upon our city council.

The problems of expenses and taxes and deficits and the intricacies of management and our relation to all of it, together with unemployment and relief, are causing us to have many meetings and discussions with those who represent us.

We heard, with great profit, a discussion of the subject: "What Price Civic Complacency?" a day or so ago. The speaker told the story of Chicago and of its tragic disaster. But as one heard him describe it, and noted the reason for the condition, he could not help realizing that nearly everywhere the people have been equally as complacent as in Chicago, the difference mainly being that other communities did not have the high-powered highwaymen running affairs that Chicago had.

At the same time we have been too busy during our prosperous days to pay attention. As the speaker said of Chicago, the business men felt they were making money anyhow faster than the other fellows could spend it. And we have passed through that experience. Now the corrections must come at a time when even in correcting it, it seems as though we are all punished.

Anyone can give a bachelor reasons why he should marry, but the $1500 difference in his income tax exemption isn't one of them.

A CHEERING WORD

The bank clearings of New York today were larger than they have been on any day for 30 months, so the dispatches tell us. This, together with the very perceptible rise in the stock market, speaks eloquently toward a brighter day. We hope these are as significant as they appear.

Grizzly Interprets 'Behaviorism'

San Francisco Chronicle
Now we get a clue to the meaning of that word "behaviorism," so commonly bandied about by high-brows these days. Says a scientist: "In California grizzly bears have disappeared almost in a generation. Their particular behaviorism rendered them unfit to cope with the problems that arose when man altered the wilderness."

We get this easily. What this scientist means is that the grizzly did not run but stood up and fought the white man and his big buffalo gun. So he is gone. That was the grizzly's behaviorism. He behaved just that way, and how!

So now we know what "behaviorism" means. It is what the critter DOES. We shall understand now what they mean when they speak of Huey Long's "behaviorism." Yet, after all, we shall probably understand still better when they tell us that Huey ranted and roared, rather than when they say Huey "exhibited his particular behaviorism." The concrete surely does beat the abstract.

Cruelty at Its Worst

Pomona Progress-Bulletin
The hit-and-run motorist is one of the least admirable features of modern civilization. But an unknown New York driver the other day added a new development in cowardly cruelty to this classification.

He struck a 10-year-old boy while driving along a suburban street; and before driving off in a panic, he stopped his car and got out long enough to lug his unconscious victim to a clump of bushes in a vacant lot, hiding him there so that he could make his getaway unmolested. Partly because of the delay, the boy was in a dying condition when found.

It would be hard to think of a more despicable act than this one. Any motorist who hits someone and then drives off deserves to be barred from the highways forever; but for a man like this it would be hard to think of a punishment too severe.

Sara Teasdale

Oakland Tribune
Sara Teasdale, whose craftsmanship in poetry was so certain, whose lyrics were so true to style, dies at forty-eight. It was but yesterday she was called one of the younger poets.
Miss Teasdale won the Pulitzer Prize. Her songs have appeared in almost all the anthologies of our verse, and her appealing lines are tucked away in many a scrapbook or human heart. It is noted now that men and women go over the writings of a singer whose voice is stilled that this poet sang mostly of herself, searched her own heart, and saw less than some others in that which was around her. A graceful singer of songs that have pleased, it is probable, as one reviewer has said, she left no truly great song.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

WHAT'S THE USE?

Bill Smithers hasn't done so well.
When times was good or bad;
He's only worked a little spell
At any job he's had.
His idle time is mostly spent
In idle conversation,
Still he can tell the President
The way to run the nation.

Jim Blodgett never had a chance
To hold a job for long.
But when it comes to high finance,
Why that's where Jim is strong.
If folks in charge of statemanship
Would stop their idle chatter,
And not just set and let things rip,
He'd show 'em what's the matter.

Steve Judson hasn't had a job
Since Warren Harding's day,
But he knows what is raising hob
With this here U. S. A.
The country's got to have a plan
Or waste is bound to break it.
And Steve is sure he's just the man
To find a way to make it.

Jake Green is working out a scheme
To get us on our feet,
It ain't no simple school-boy dream;
It's figured out complete.
He's drawn it out with charts and maps
Upon a butter zirklin,
But none of those there Congress chaps
Will help him start it workin'.

PARAGRAPHS

By Robert Quillen

Look at the earth. When it tries to mend a depression by pushing one part up, another part goes down.

Gentle hint to Congress: And the farmer isn't the only guy who needs his debts adjusted to his income.

The ideal law-maker is one who has enough wealth to hate taxes and not enough to pay taxes without suffering.

Using less machinery might be a backward step, but you can say that about using less poison gas.

There's one consolation. When the gas tax gets a little higher, the railroads will be saved.

SOME FATAL WRECKS NEVER ARE EXPLAINED. POLICE CAN'T FIND ANY FRAGMENTS OF THE BOTTLE.

Speaking of tax refunds, isn't it strange that the rich alone are dumb enough to make mistakes in their returns?

Don't be a piker. There's always some nicer name for a thief who gets a million.

Even when the country is saved, think how long it will take Congress to investigate the methods used.

AMERICANISM: Taxing the little fellow more and more in desperate effort to save the country; giving the big boys four billions in tax refunds.

Note to Huey Long: If Nero fiddled while Rome burned, at least he didn't get in the way of the firemen.

So live that you needn't make desperate explanations to get confirmed for a Cabinet post.

Speed isn't wholly to blame for the tragedies. The other fellow's slowness is half of the cause.

STILL, THERE'S MANY A HUSBAND WHO LEAVES HOME WITHOUT PERMISSION OR EXPLANATION. HE SNEAKS OUT.

Boom times can't begin all at once, anyway. It takes seven years to grow an orchid.

Technocracy isn't a total loss. It just naturally increases your self-respect to use such big words.

If women call him a brute and men call him a sucker, he's probably a good average husband.

There's good in everything. If one nation can shoot up another without a war, history will be much easier for the next generation.

CORRECT THIS SENTENCE: "THIS IS A SACRED TRUST," SAID THE PUBLIC OFFICIAL, "AND I SHALL SPEND THE MONEY MORE CAREFULLY THAN I WOULD MY OWN."

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

NEW THORNS IN FOREIGN POLICY

I have for some days now been seeking to make plain how clearly the facts seem to me to indicate that even the domestic program of the Roosevelt administration will end in futility unless it brings a bold and realistic spirit to the present muddled and unrealistic foreign policy of the United States.

I have been roundly damned by a few Americans lately for having said that Mr. Roosevelt approaches his task at the end of 14 years of tragic futility in the field of American foreign policy, that for 14 years we have fiddled while the world burned—a Nero among the nations.

I stand by my guns! We must either boldly fit modern economic America into the modern economic world as an integral part or take the consequences of a world-wide tariff war, an increasing paralysis of world trade, and an ultimate collapse of western civilization.

And I say this with full appreciation that Mr. Roosevelt's problem of foreign policy has been made incredibly more difficult by the indecisive and blundering foreign policy of the last 14 years.

At the end of the war we had a magnificent opportunity to relate American foreign policy realistically to world affairs. We missed that opportunity! Every year since the task of bringing realism into American foreign policy has grown harder.

The post-war years have bred new moods and new measures in Europe that Mr. Roosevelt must take into account.

A thousand and one vested emotions respecting foreign affairs have been generated in the American mind.

The League of Nations is today by no means the instrument it might have been with the universal membership and unqualified mandate originally forecast for it.

It will not be easy for Mr. Roosevelt to move directly towards the perfect objective of a realistic foreign policy, but move he must if he is not merely to perpetuate and to compound the folly and futility we have brought to our world relations for the last fourteen years.

self. He needs the stimulation of the stranger. You cannot reach him at this phase of his growth. He is hidden from you and you from him.

This happens even when you have consciously striven to hold the child's confidence. Sometimes you can and do hold it. Often you do not. His affection for his people does not die. What he is struggling to find lies apart from family ties. They hold him. He depends upon them as he goes away from home to experiment with life. He will return again in a different person, but still your child. Much of the joy of your future relations with him depends upon your attitude during this phase of his growth.

"Ask Mr. Manly what he thinks." "What did Father Blaise say?" "It might be well to talk this over with Dr. Cummins." If you do that, if you encourage his outside interests in people, he will keep in touch with you and you can help him. If you take the other attitude he will close up like a clam.

I have said "he" through this story but that is because the English language makes me do so. Girls go through this phase as the boys do and need just as much understanding help as they. All children pass through the fogs of adolescence and a stranger can help them better than parents can because they can see them better. They stand outside.

Don't do that. The child is following the law of life. He is going out to test the world for himself. He cannot ask you, question your judgments, criticize your decisions and actions because his training is against it. He sees in you himself and what he needs to see is what lies beyond him.
